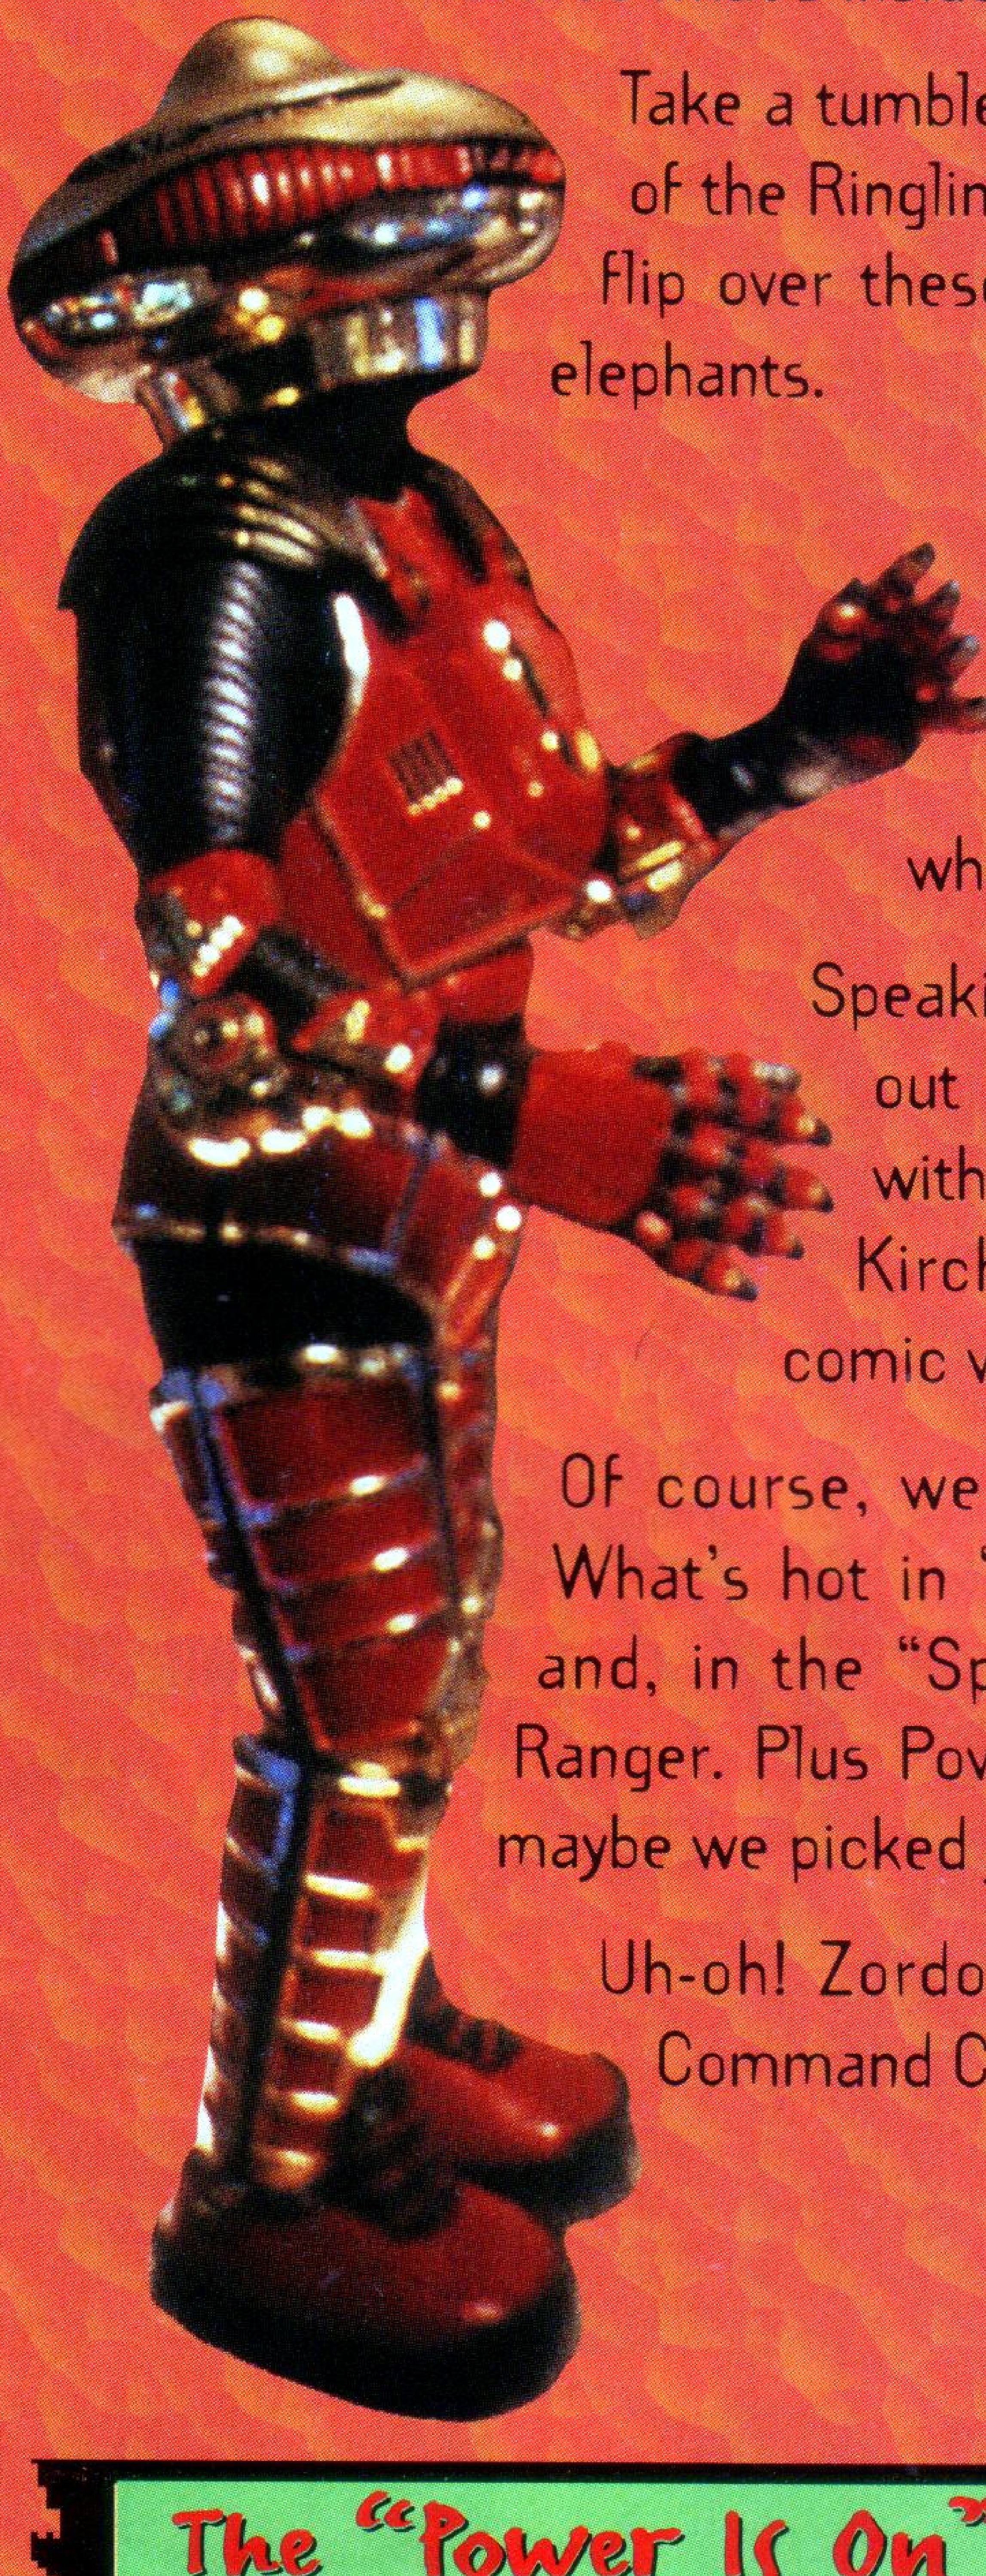
IT'S MORPHIN TIME

Ai-yi-yi! It's a new issue of Mighty Morphin Power Rangers Magazine that's ai-yi-action packed! It's me, Alpha 5, and I'm so excited I think I might short circuit. Well, no time to worry about that! Let's take a look at what's inside . . .



Take a tumble with the Chicago Kidz—an incredible part of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus. You'll flip over these young acrobats, because they flip over elephants.

Warning! Warning! The crazy Cuckoo Clockster is terrorizing Angel Grove. The Power Rangers are in danger! Turn to the all-new comic story and find out what happens!

Speaking of comics, now's your chance to find out how they're made. Go behind the scenes with our Power Rangers comics creator, Paul Kirchner, and try your hand at becoming a comic writer and artist yourself.

Of course, we have all the other sections you need: What's hot in "Newsbytes From the Command Center" and, in the "Spotlight," our friend Kimberly, the Pink Ranger. Plus Power Pics from kids all over the country—maybe we picked yours!

Uh-oh! Zordon's calling. I'd better get back to the Command Center. Ai-yi-I'll see you next time!

Also, let us know what you liked in our magazine. We must receive entries by December 15, 1995. Send your postcards to: The "Power Is On" Sweepstakes, Marvel Family Publishing, 387 Park Avenue South, New York, NY 10016.

Whaddya mean?

What do we mean? Hey, it's Nerf's 25th birthday and we're giving away a Heap o' Nerf and a chance to be in a TV commercial. Your friends have birthdays and what do they ever give you? Don't just stand there like a bowl of tapioca! Pile 'em up, and strap 'em on. Then grab a camera, say "cheese," and snap away! It's said a picture is worth a thousand words, but what would you do with that? We'll give you a pile of Nerf and put you on TV instead. You lucky dog, you.

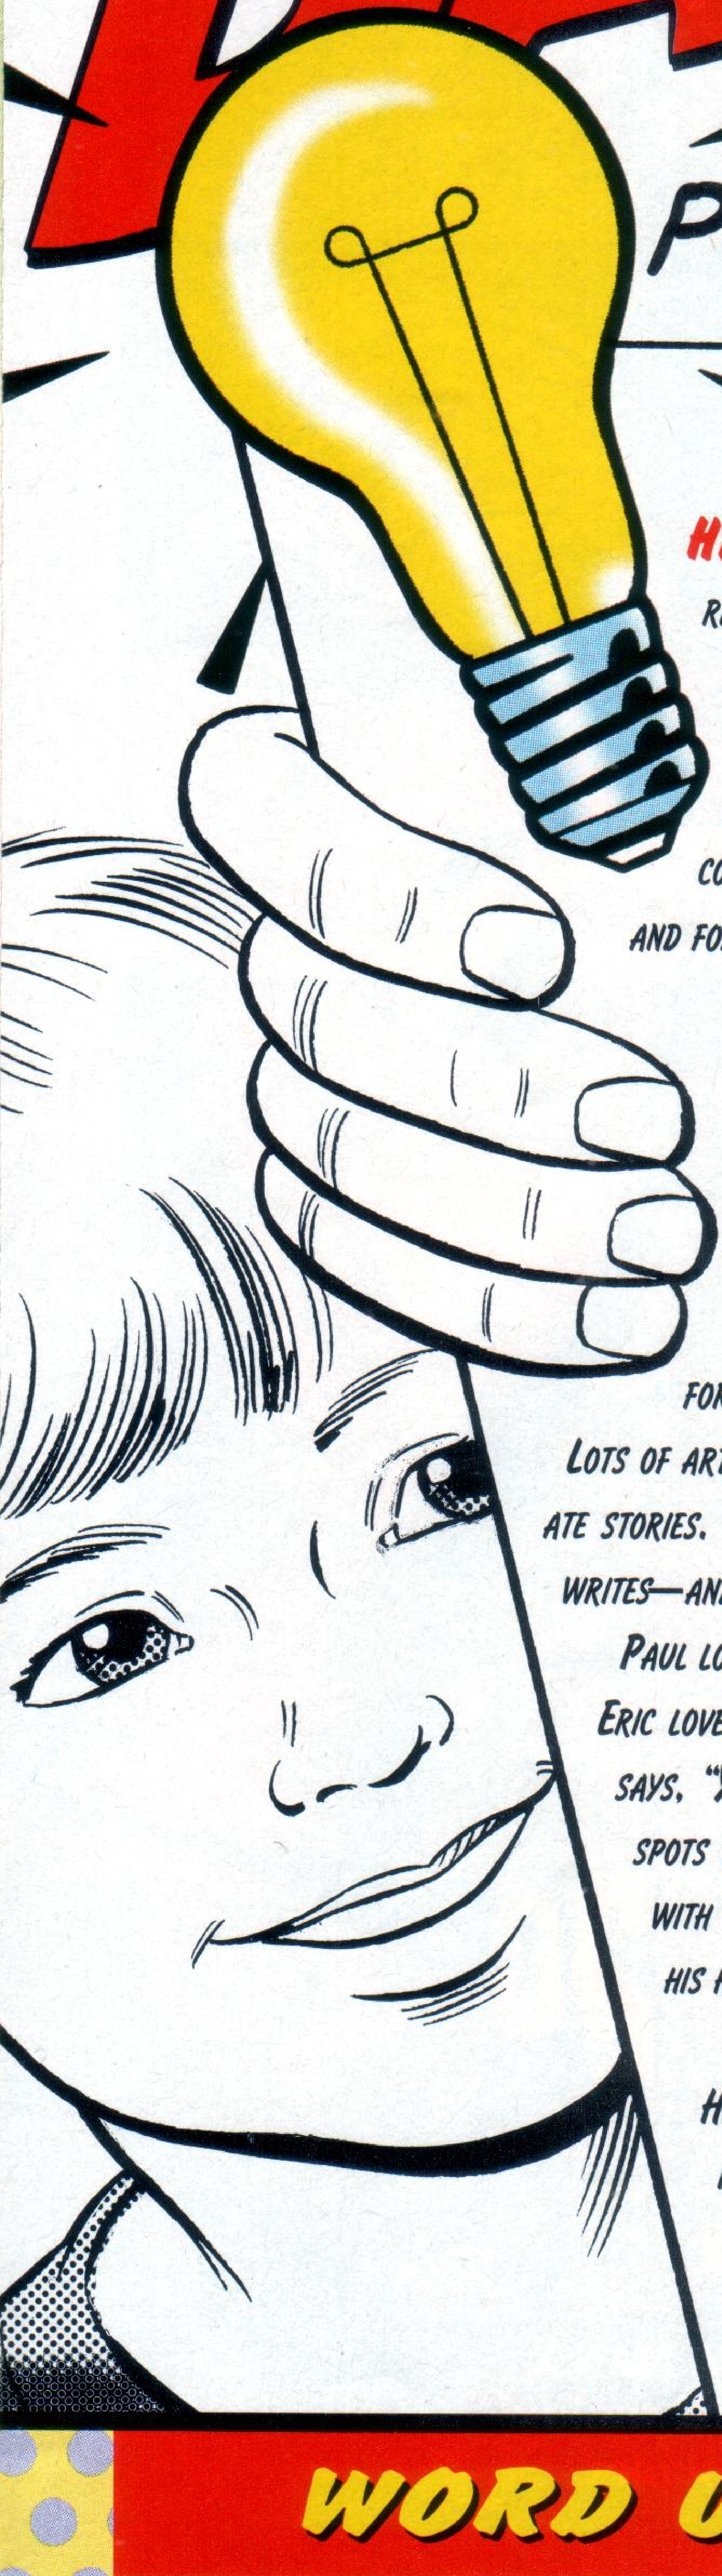
BA-BOOM!

...AN IDEA FLASHES, AND A POWER RANGERS COMIC BEGINS.



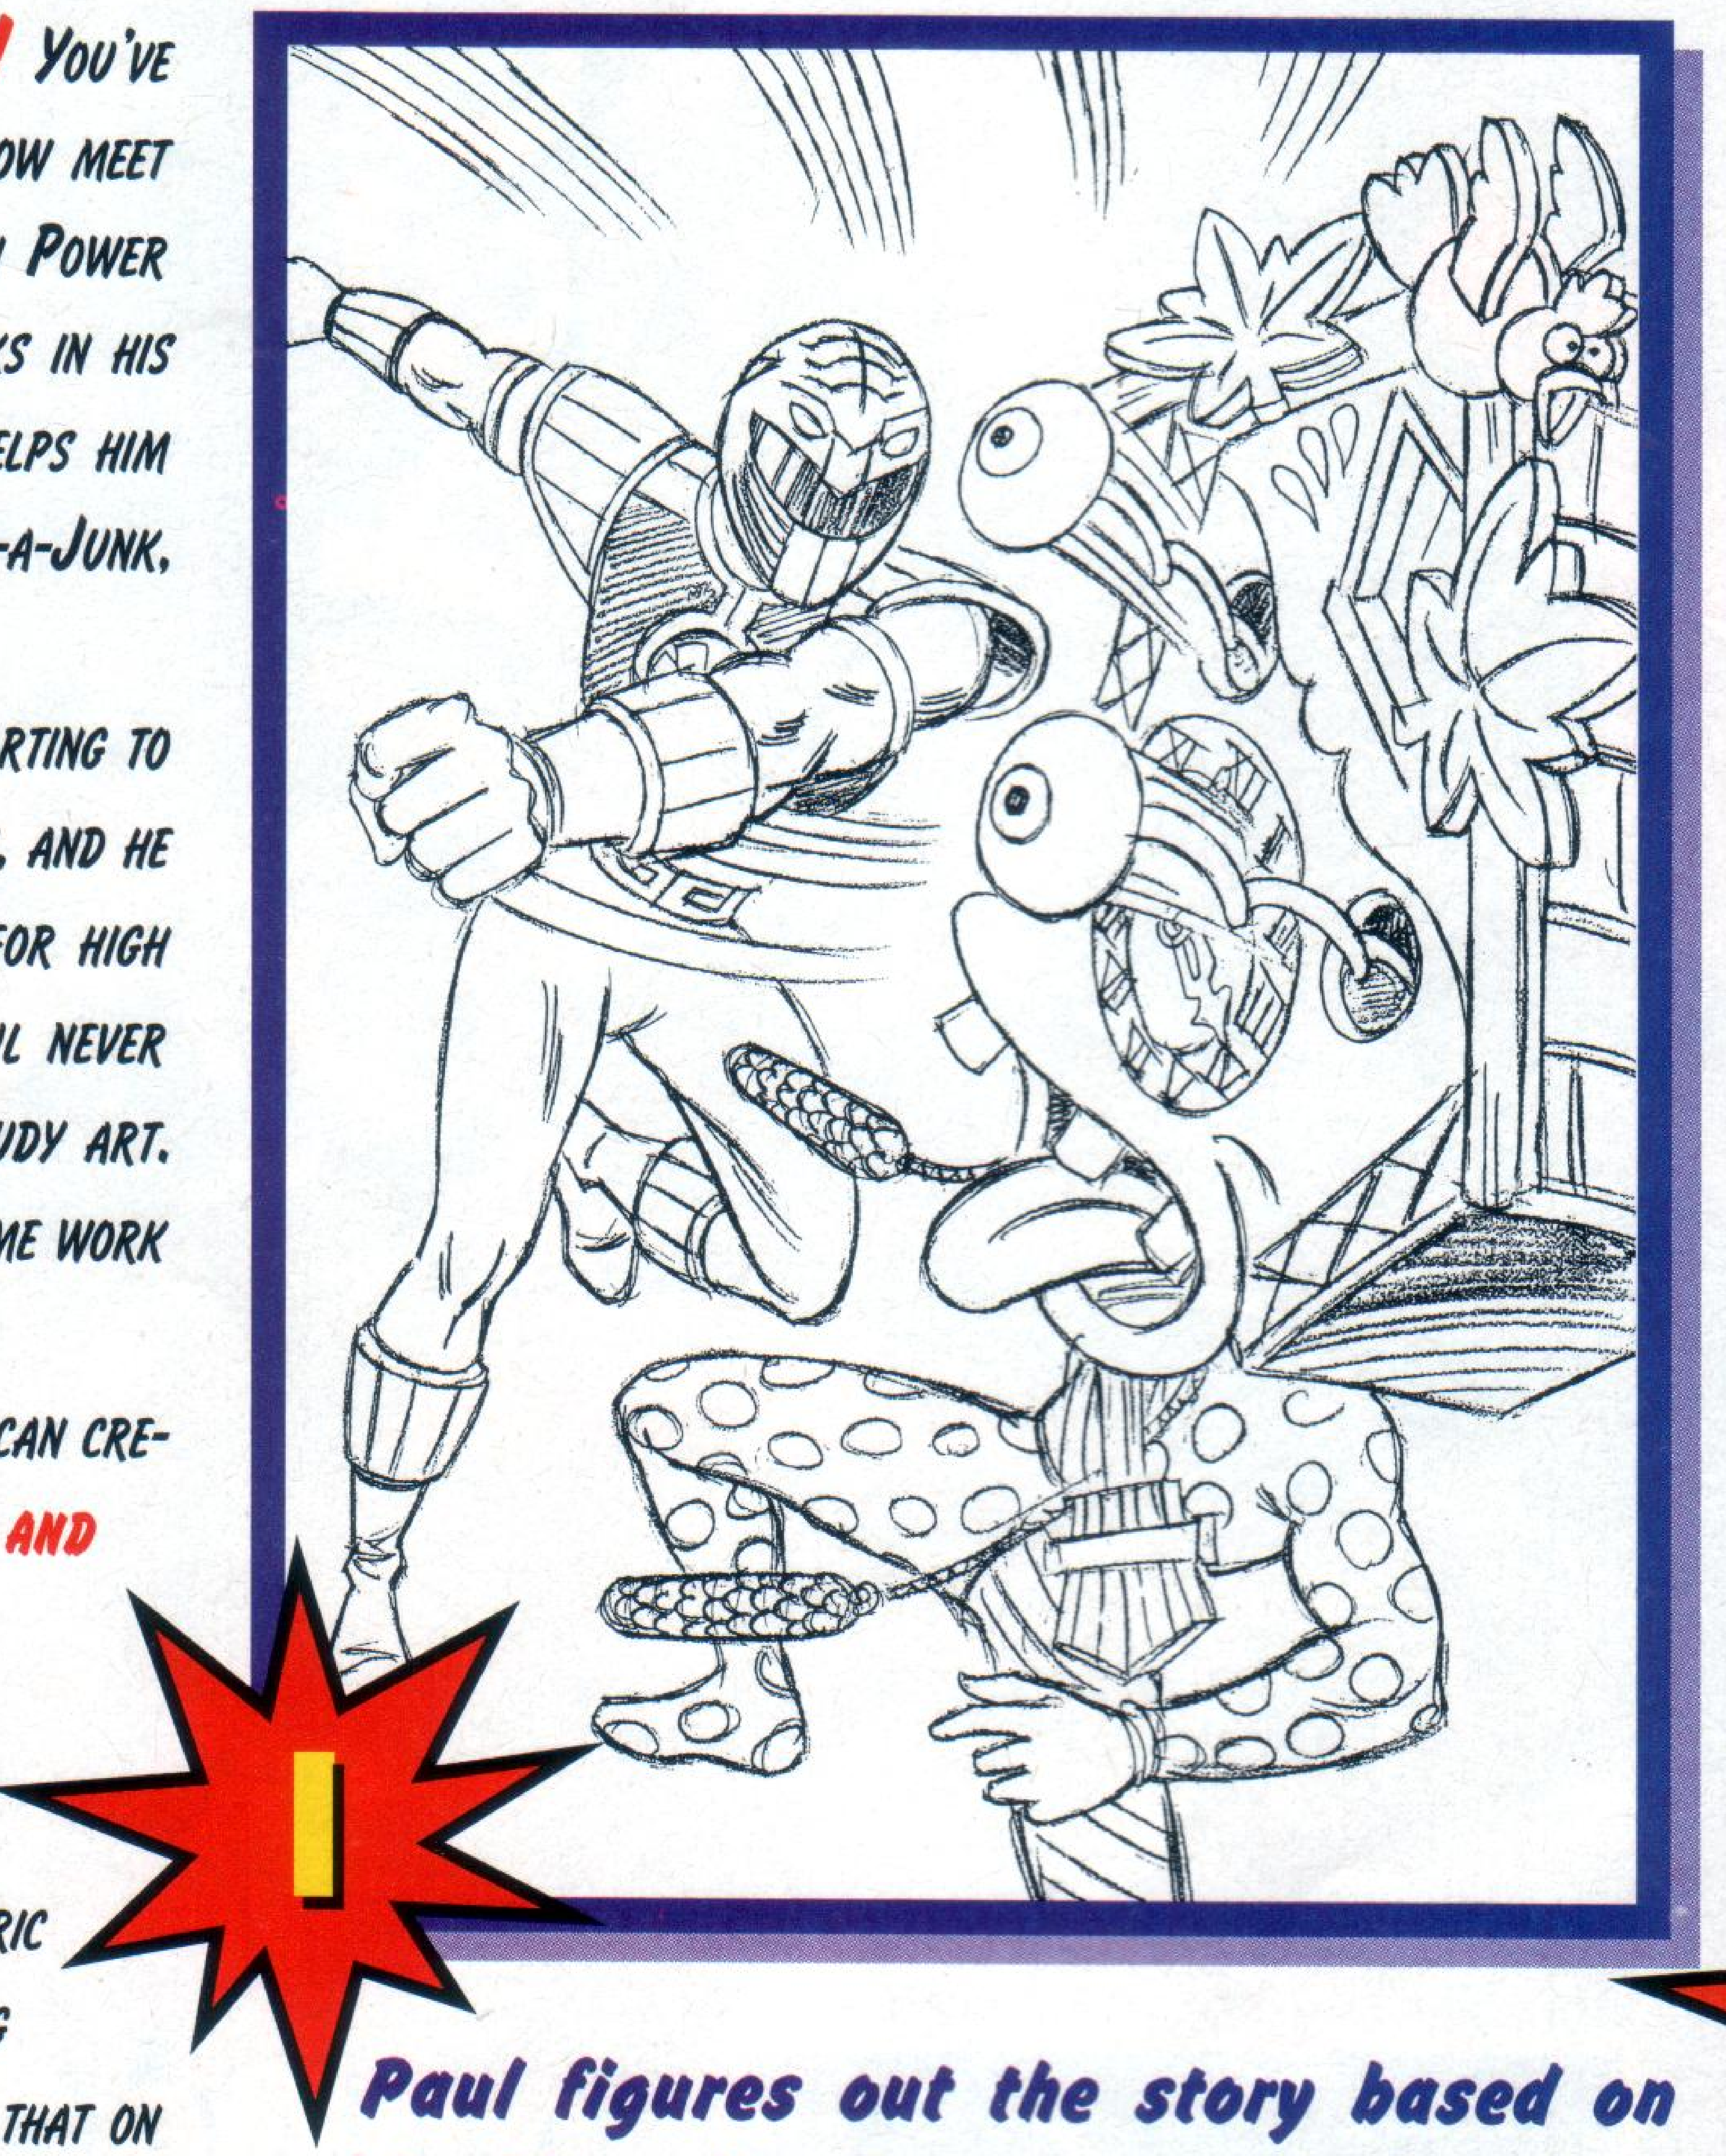
HEY, POWER RANGERS MAGAZINE FANS! YOU'VE READ OUR THRILLING POWER RANGERS COMICS, SO NOW MEET THEIR CREATOR: PAUL KIRCHNER, OUR VERY OWN POWER RANGERS COMIC WRITER AND ARTIST. PAUL WORKS IN HIS HOME STUDIO, AND HIS SON, ERIC KIRCHNER, 9, HELPS HIM COME UP WITH GREAT VILLAINS, LIKE DRAKULAR, HUNK-A-JUNK, AND FOR THIS ISSUE, THE CUCKOO CLOCKSTER.

PAUL TOLD US HE BECAME AN ARTIST JUST BY STARTING TO DRAW. AS A KID HE LOVED TO DRAW COMIC HEROES, AND HE BECAME THE SCHOOL ARTIST, CREATING POSTERS FOR HIGH SCHOOL EVENTS LIKE DANCES AND MOVIES. PAUL NEVER STOPPED DRAWING AND WENT TO COLLEGE TO STUDY ART. HE CONTINUED TO READ COMIC BOOKS AND DID SOME WORK FOR MARVEL COMICS.

LOTS OF ARTISTS CAN DRAW COMIC HEROES, AND MANY WRITERS CAN CREATE STORIES. WHAT'S UNUSUAL ABOUT PAUL IS THAT HE DRAWS AND WRITES—AND DOES BOTH WELL.

PAUL LOVES CREATING OUR POWER RANGERS COMICS. AND ERIC LOVES IT, TOO. WHEN ERIC LIKES A NEW MONSTER, HE SAYS, "YOU'RE DOING A VERY GOOD JOB, DADDY." ALSO, ERIC SPOTS MISTAKES. ONE TIME HE NOTICED SOMETHING WRONG WITH BILLY AND SAID, "THE BLUE RANGER DOESN'T HAVE THAT ON HIS HELMET!" LUCKILY FOR PAUL HE HAS ERIC BY HIS SIDE.

PAUL BEGINS HIS COMIC STORY BY THINKING UP A "BAD GUY." HE HAS TO THINK LIKE LORD ZEDD: WHAT OBJECT CAN I TURN INTO A VILLAIN? THE IDEA OFTEN COMES IN A FLASH, AND THEN HE KNOWS WHO THE NEXT MONSTER WILL BE! ONCE HE HAS THE IDEA, THE FUN—AND WORK—CAN BEGIN.



Paul figures out the story based on his idea. He draws pencil sketches for each page. The sketches are done in boxes called "panels." Each panel shows action and tells the story. This panel shows the White Ranger and the Cuckoo Clockster.

WORD UP

Word balloons give comic book characters a place to talk. After all, they have a lot to say! Special balloons show certain ways of speaking.

Whisper balloons show that characters want to be quiet:
LOOK, BULK, THERE'S THE POWER RANGERS' SECRET HIDING PLACE!

Thought balloons show what characters are thinking:
I HOPE TOMMY IS ALRIGHT . . .

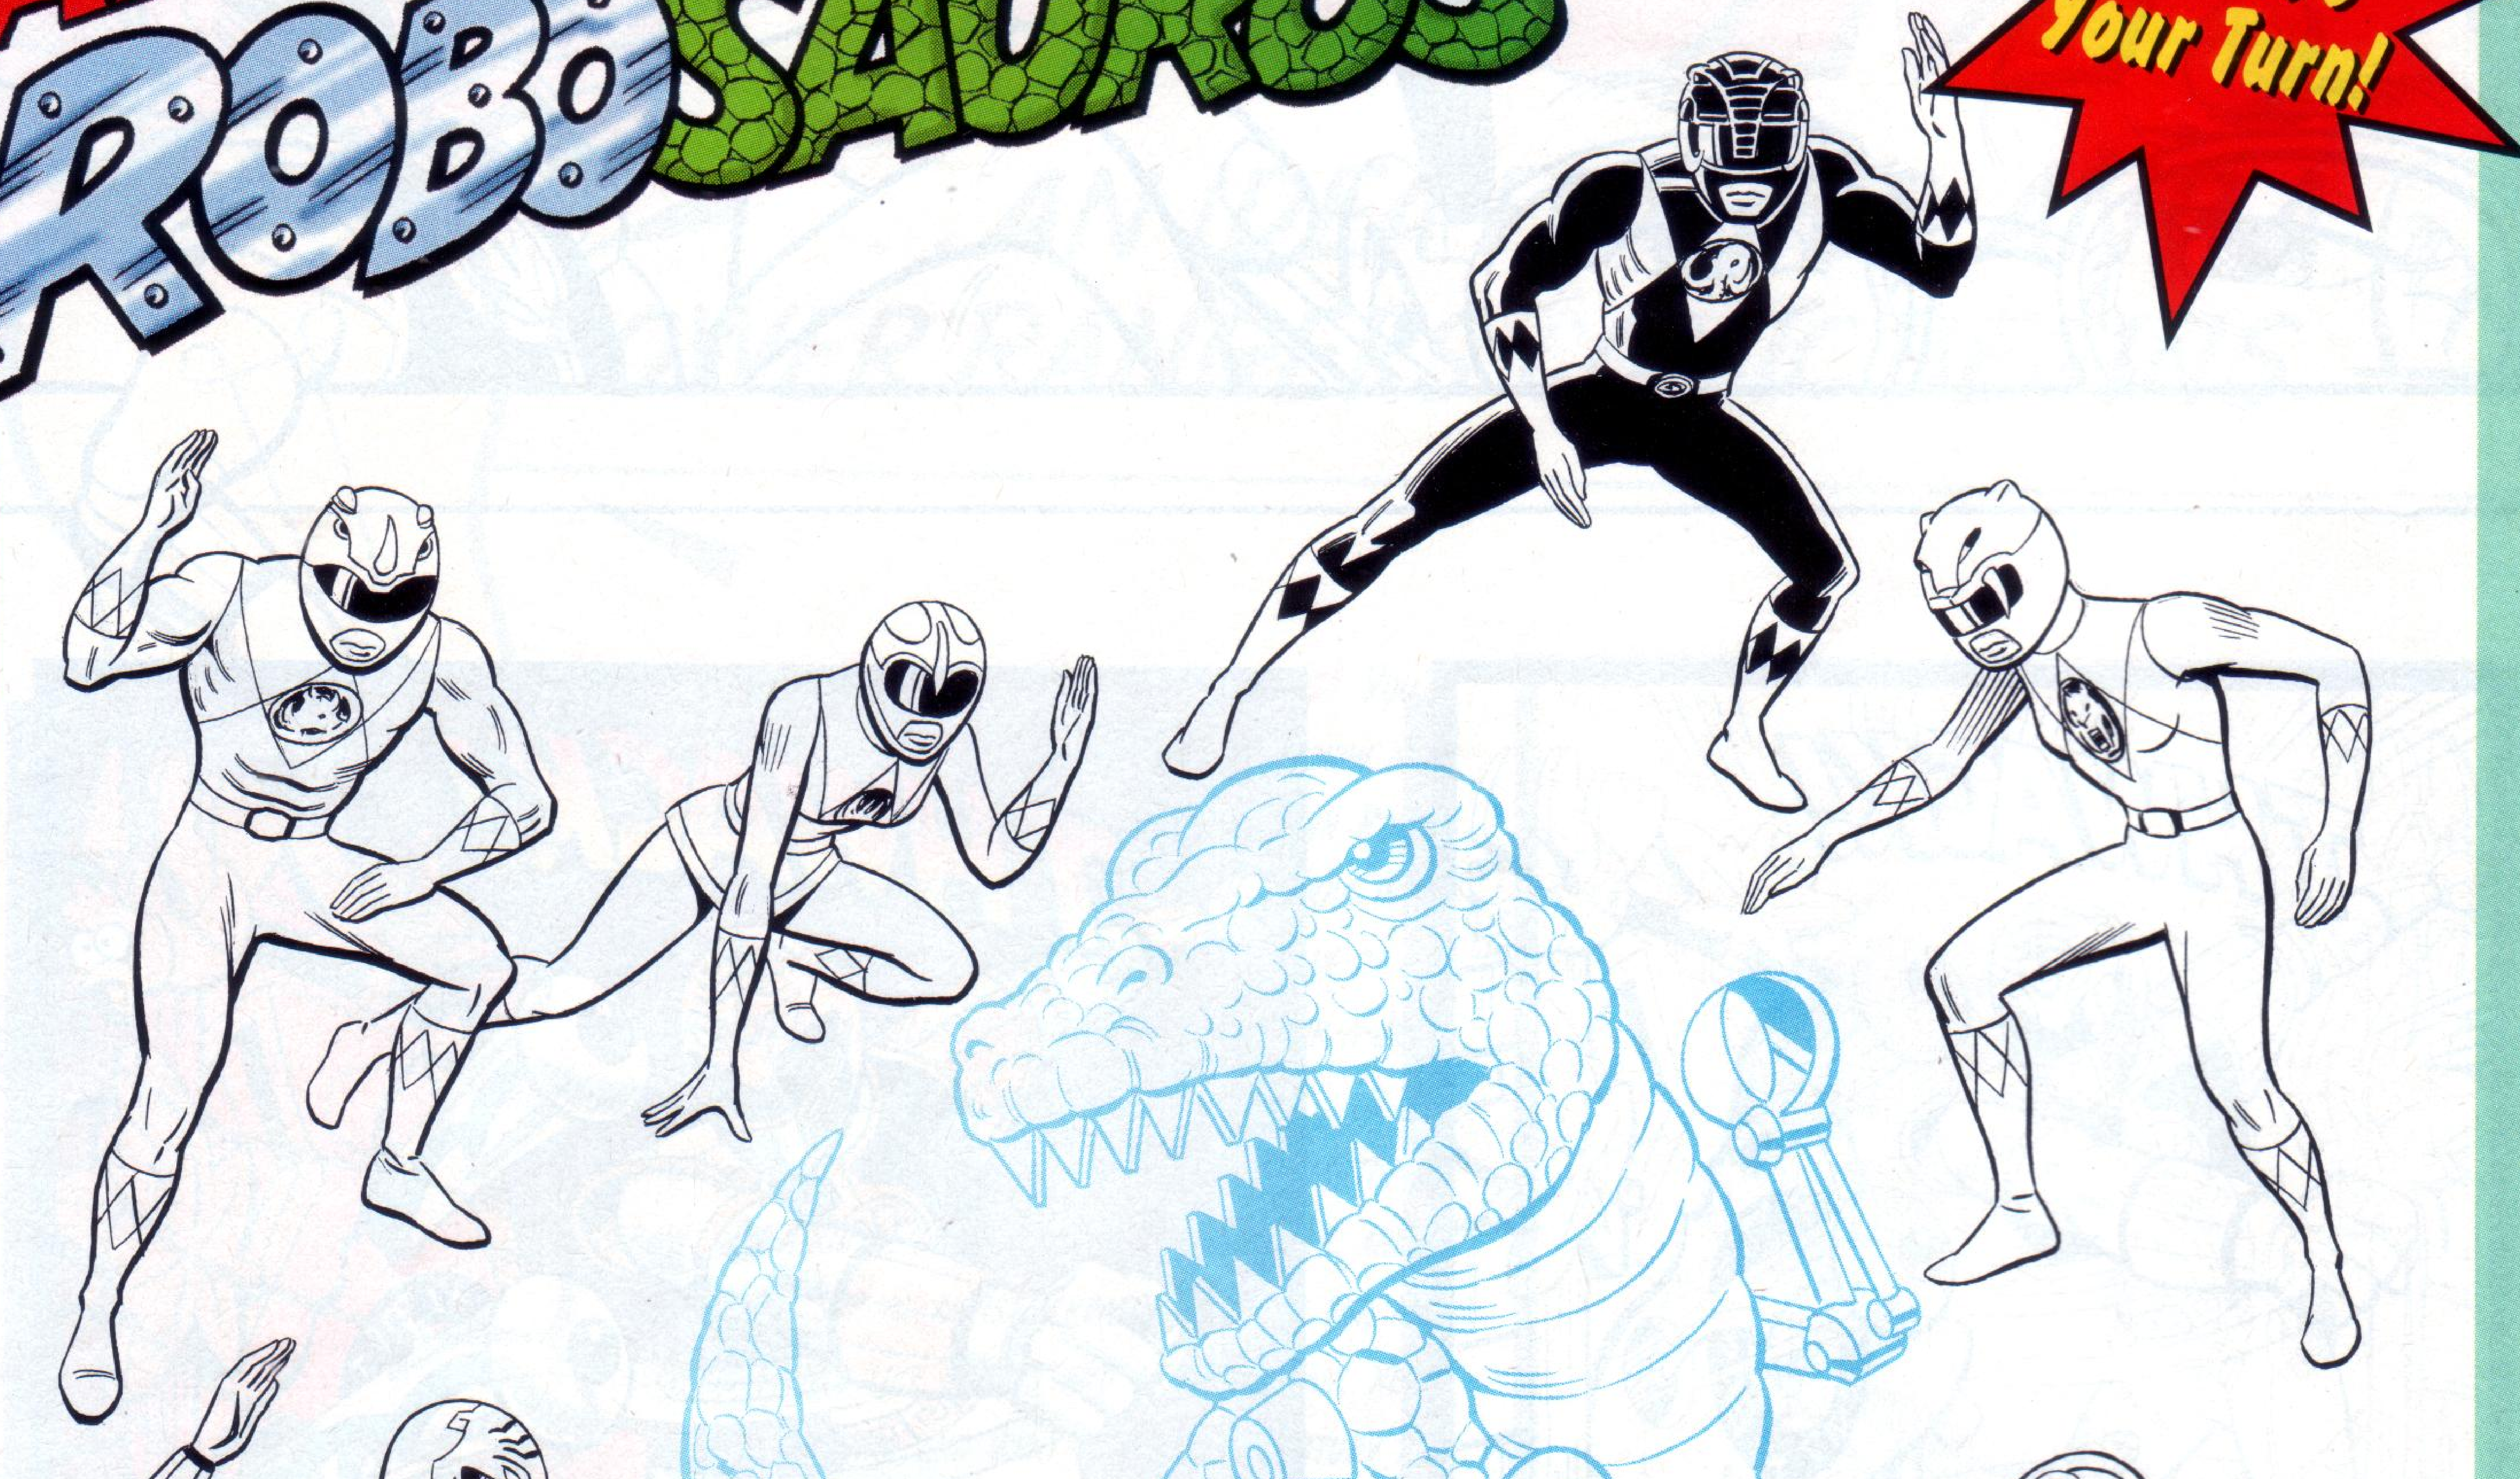
A regular word balloon is used for normal conversation:
WHERE'S KIMBERLY?

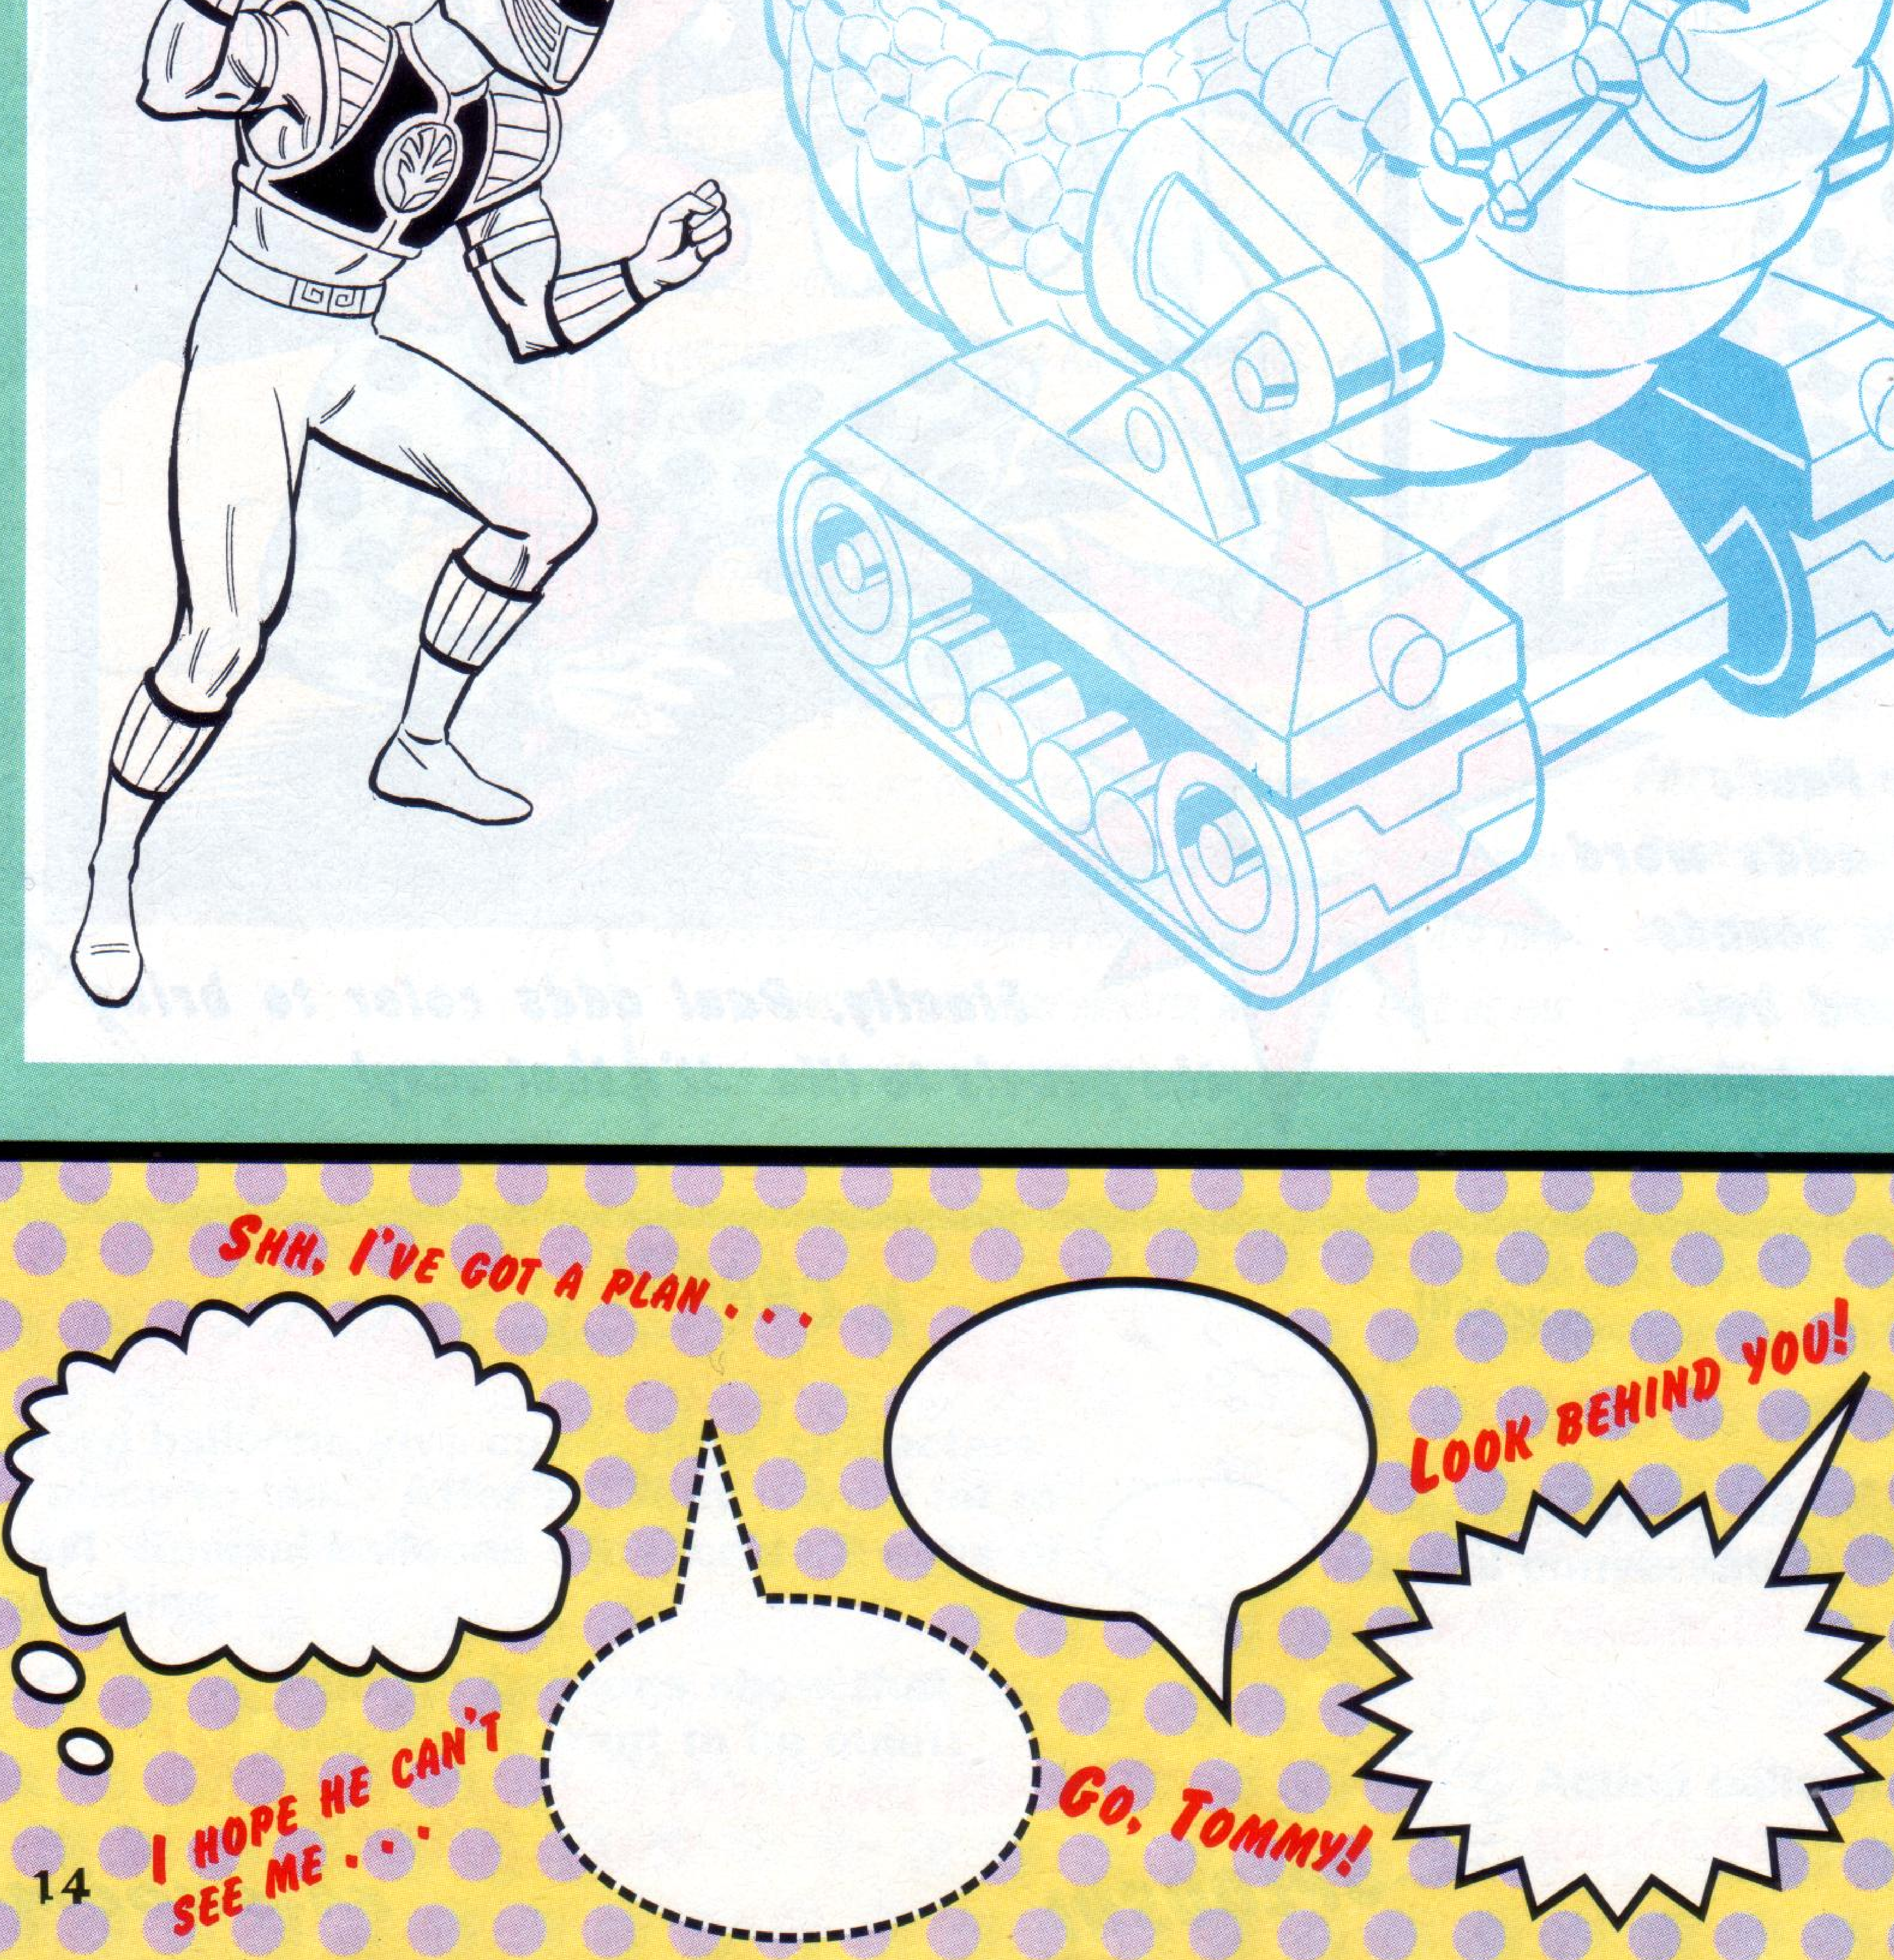
Action balloons show excitement:
WATCH OUT!

On the next page, we've given you four types of word balloons. Can you name them?

ATTACK OF THE ROBOSAURUS

Now It's Your Turn!



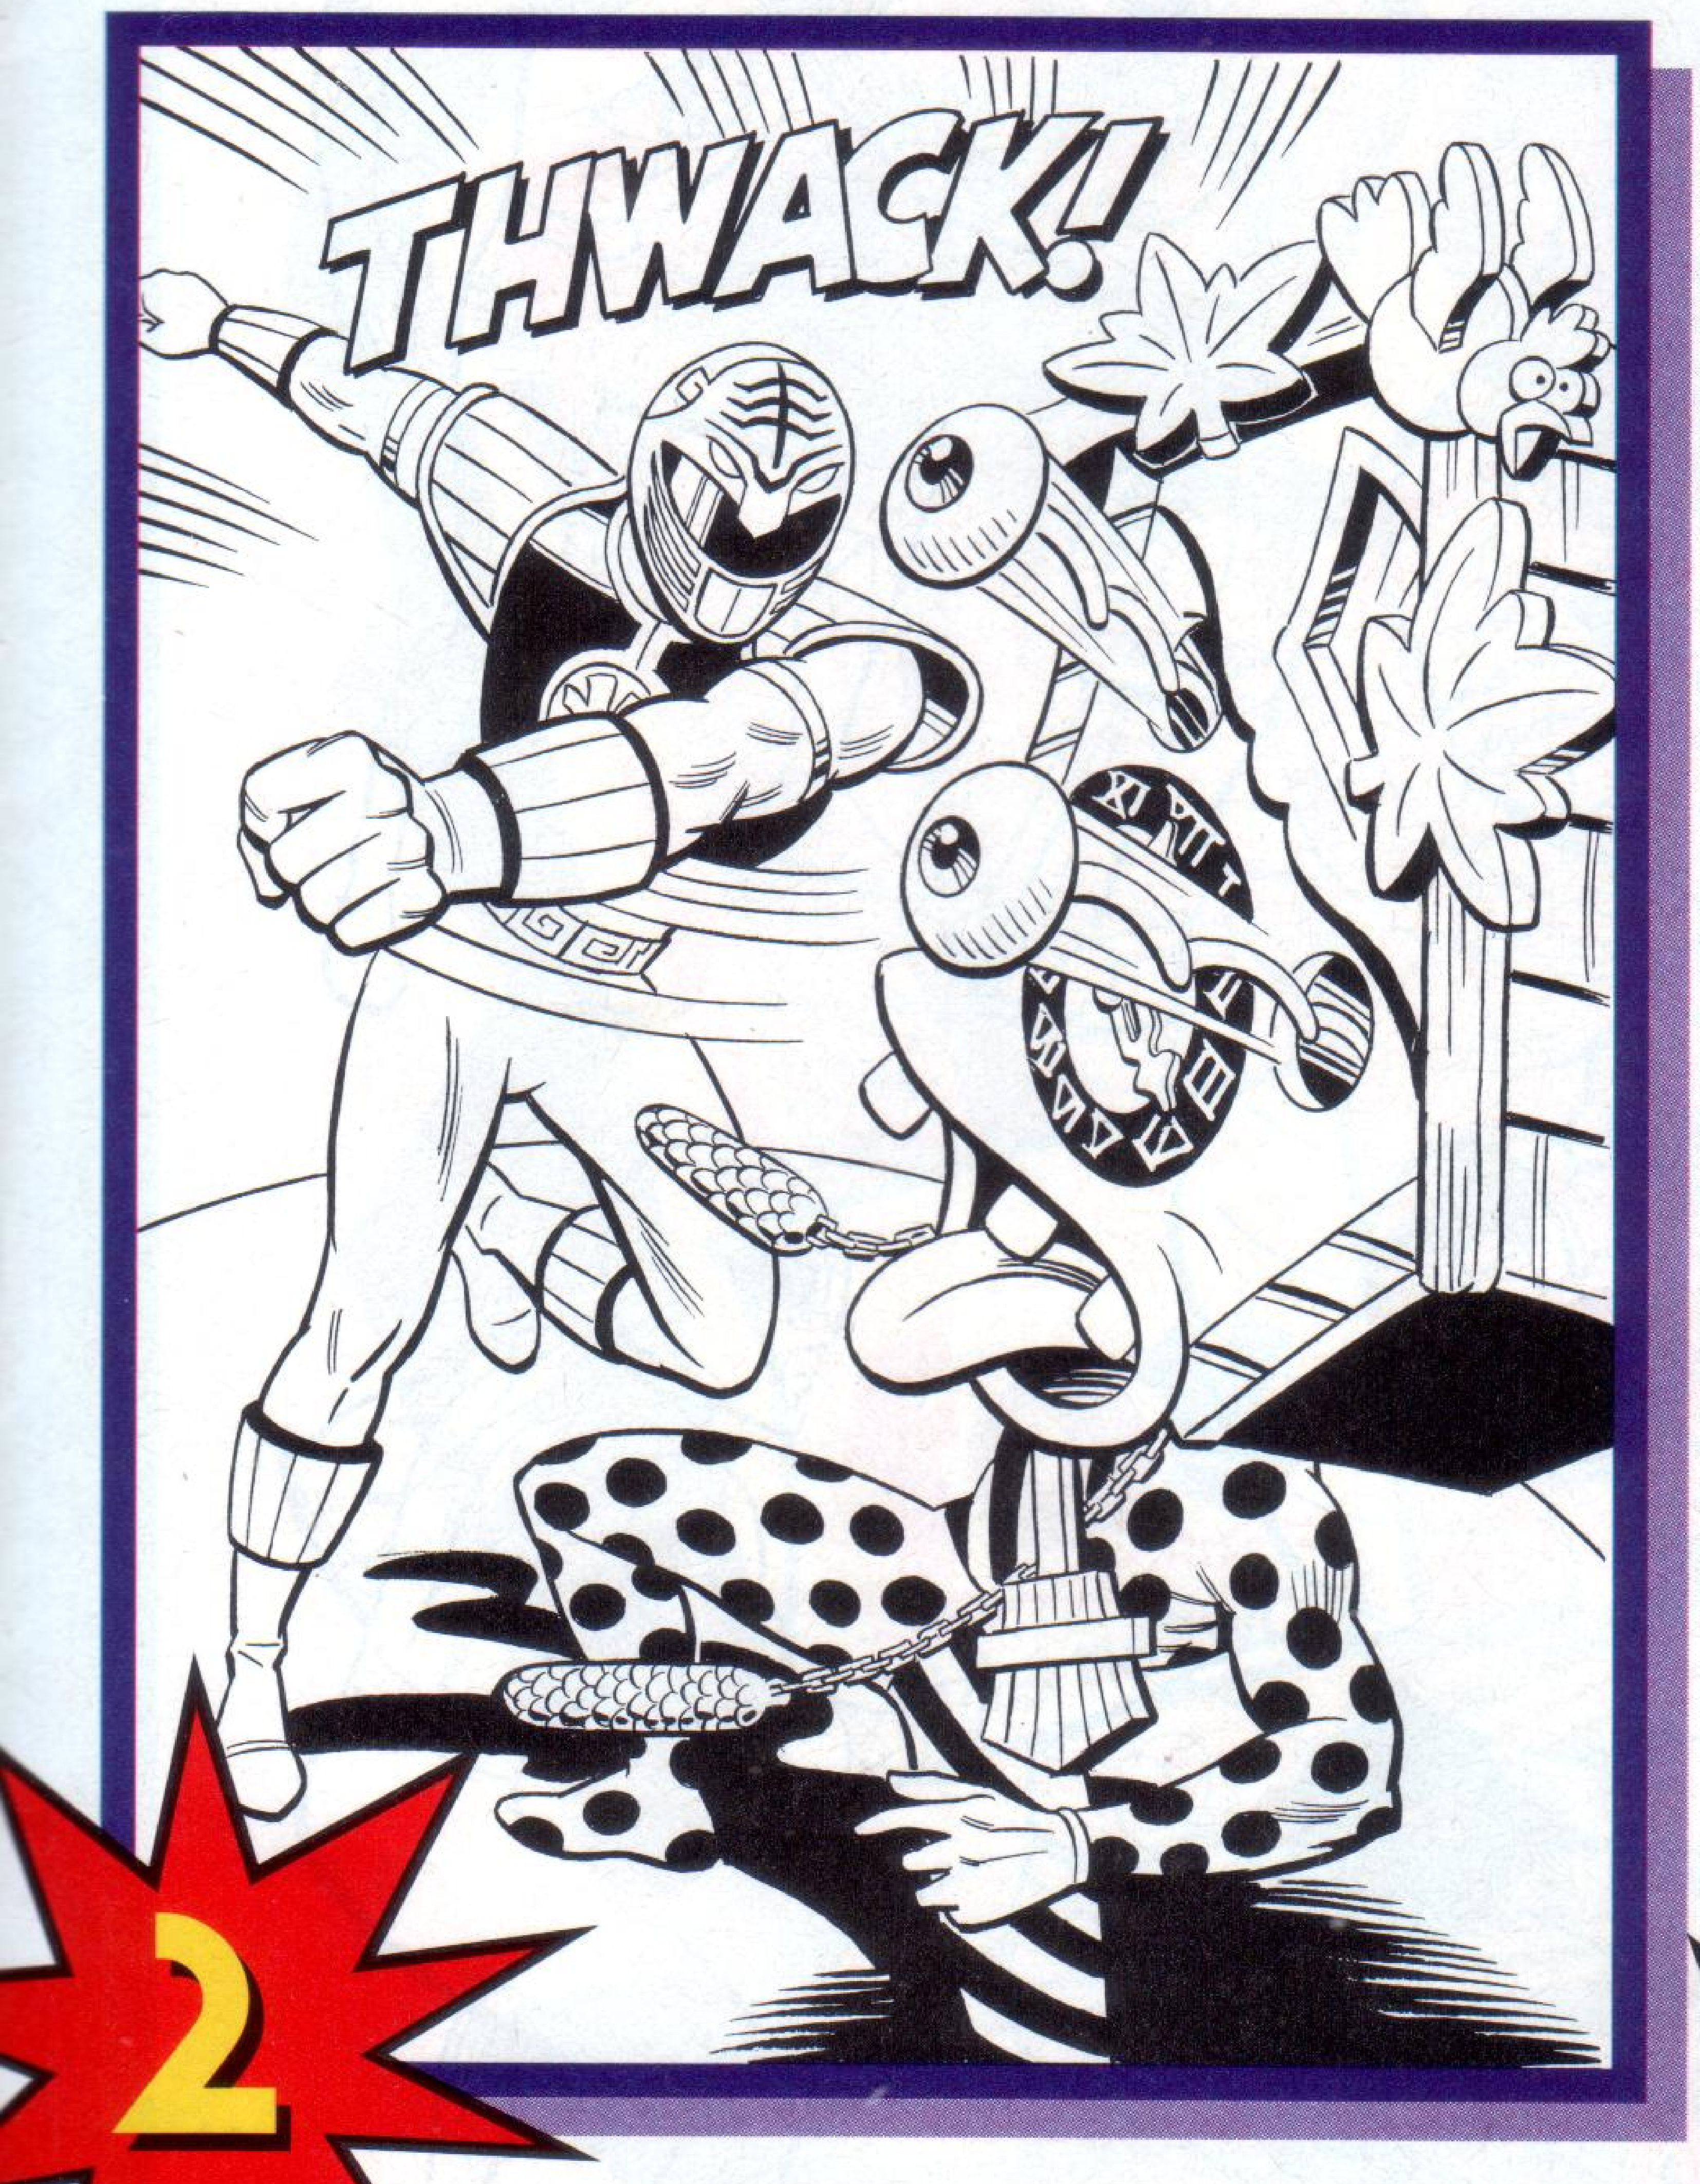


SHH, I'VE GOT A PLAN . . .
LOOK BEHIND YOU!
I HOPE HE CAN'T SEE ME . . .
GO, TOMMY!

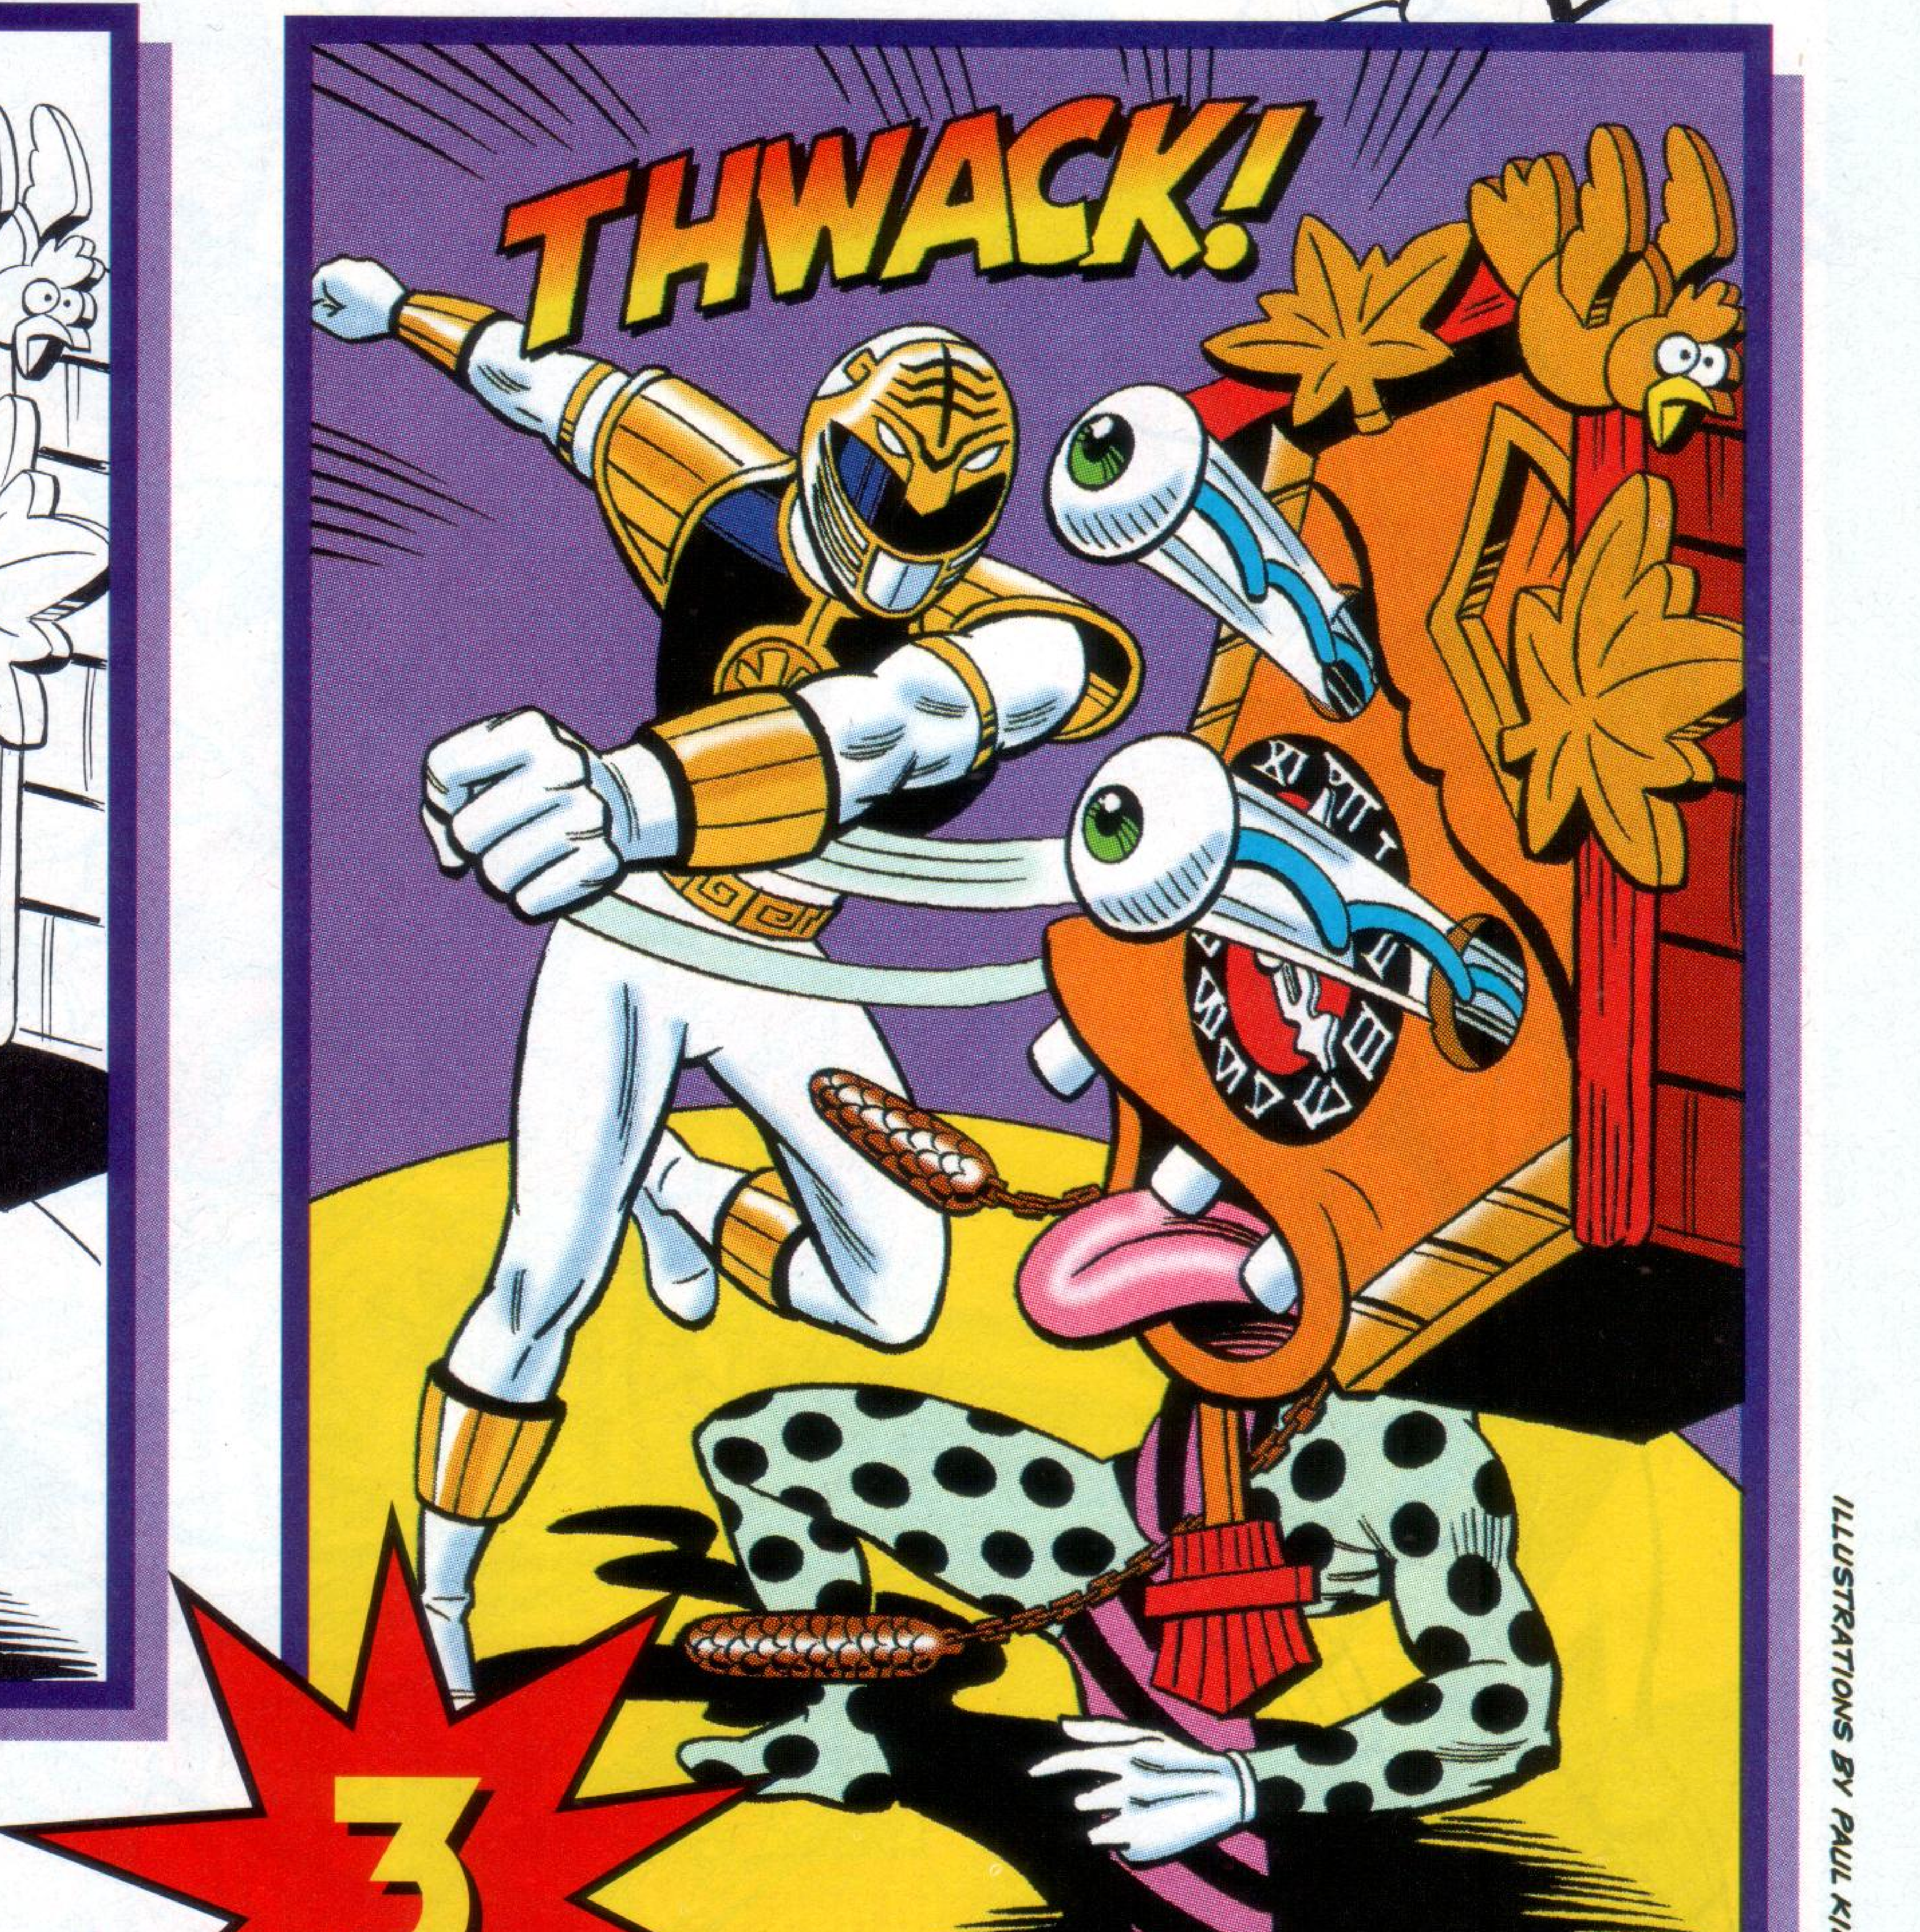
JOIN THE FUN

AND FINISH THIS PAGE! HERE'S HOW:

1. Have an adult help you cut out the four types of balloons. Fill them in with things for the Power Rangers to say, think, whisper, or shout. We've given you some examples.
2. Glue the balloons next to the Power Rangers.
3. Trace over the villain, Robosaurus, with a pen or heavy pencil.
4. Now you can color the monster and all the Power Rangers.
5. Congratulations! You've created a comic!



An inker draws over Paul's sketches in ink. Paul adds word balloons or special-effects sounds (see the descriptions of word balloons and special-effects sounds below).



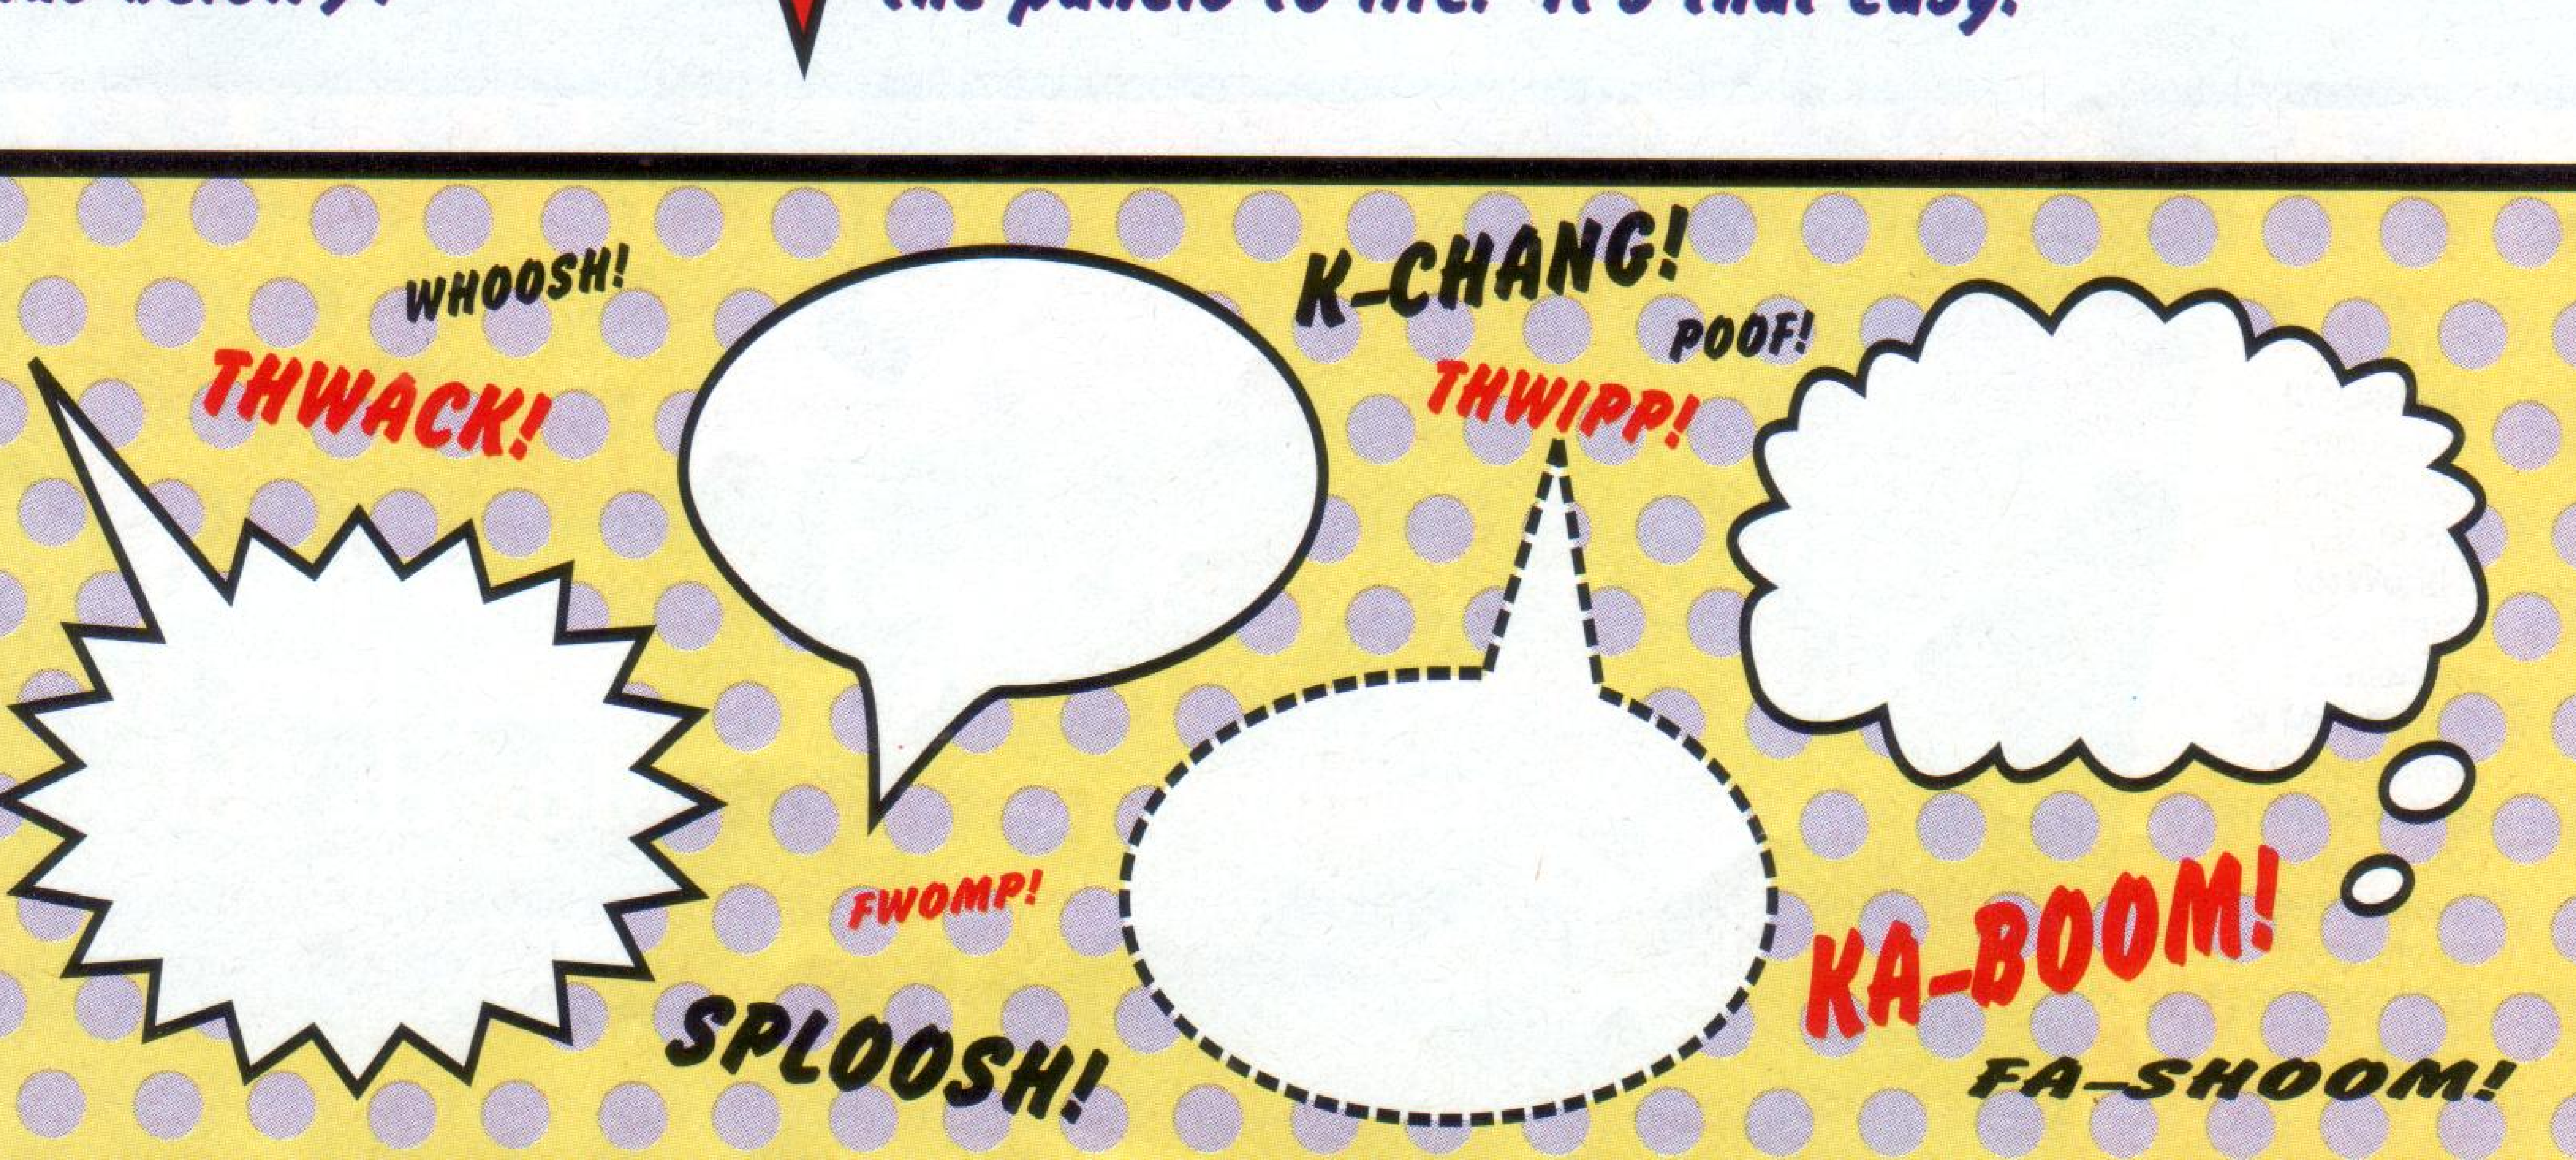
ILLUSTRATIONS BY PAUL KIRCHNER

Finally, Paul adds color to bring the panels to life. It's that easy!

BA-BOOM!

The other important words on a comic book page are the special-effects words. They make the sounds of action. Here are some special-effects words to build your comic vocabulary:

CRRASH! SSSSZZZRAKK!
BA-BOOM!



WHOOSH!
THWACK!
K-CHANG!
POOF!
THWIPP!
FWOMP!

NOVEMBER 3RD IS SANDWICH DAY!

Everyone knows what one is, but do you know where the word "sandwich" gets its name? More than 200 years ago the earl of Sandwich, England, created the first one. It's a good thing Rita wasn't the inventor. A ham and cheese repulsa on rye doesn't sound very appetizing!

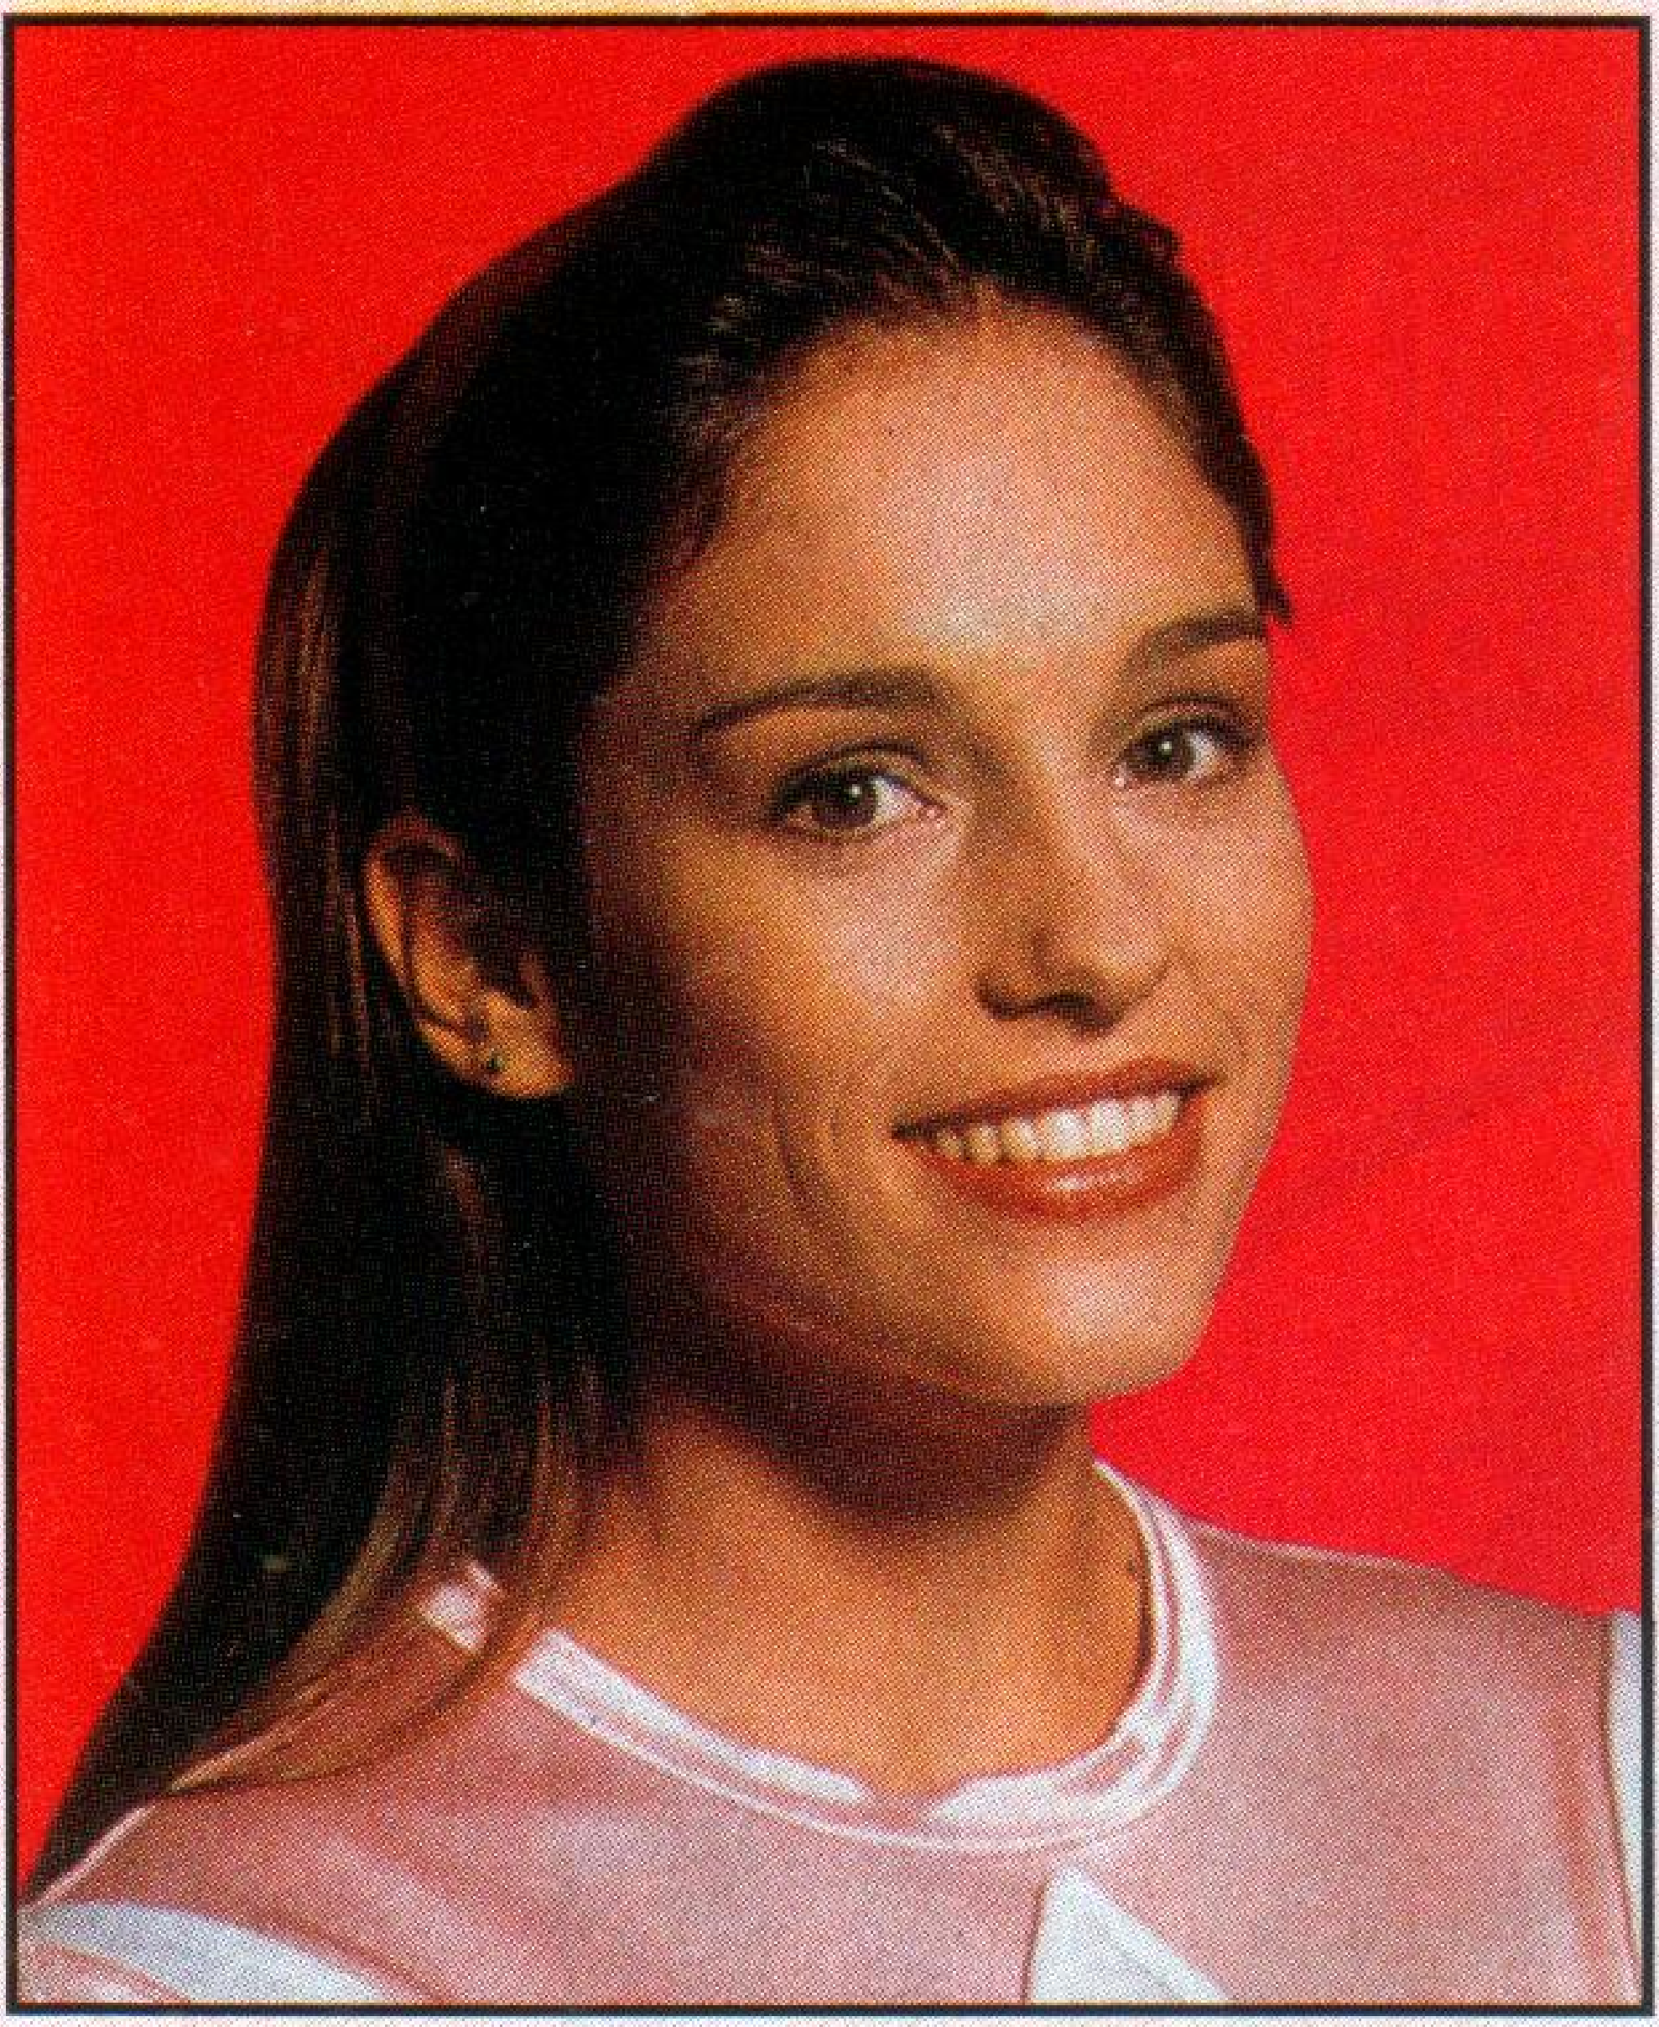
SPOTLIGHT ON...

THE PINK RANGER



REAL NAME: Kimberly

PERSONALITY: BRIGHT and POSITIVE are the two words that best describe Kimberly. Her good attitude makes her one of the most popular girls at Angel Grove High. Although she loves the attention, Kimberly never considers herself more important than the team.

WHEN NOT SAVING THE WORLD: Kimberly loves sports and is training for the World Games in gymnastics. When she wants to relax, Kimberly enjoys shopping with her friends.

BEST BUDDY: Kimberly's closest pal is Aisha, the Yellow Ranger. The two never seem to go anywhere alone; when you see one, you see the other! This year, Kimberly decided to live with Aisha's family, instead of moving to France with her mom.

ASSETS: Kimberly is a champion gymnast. Her combination of gymnastics skill and martial arts technique makes her a tough match for any of Lord Zedd's henchmen. As the Pink Ranger, she draws her power from the Pterodactyl, and her weapon is the Power Bow. She also calls on the Crane Ninjazord and the Pink Shogunzord when the Power Rangers are in a jam.

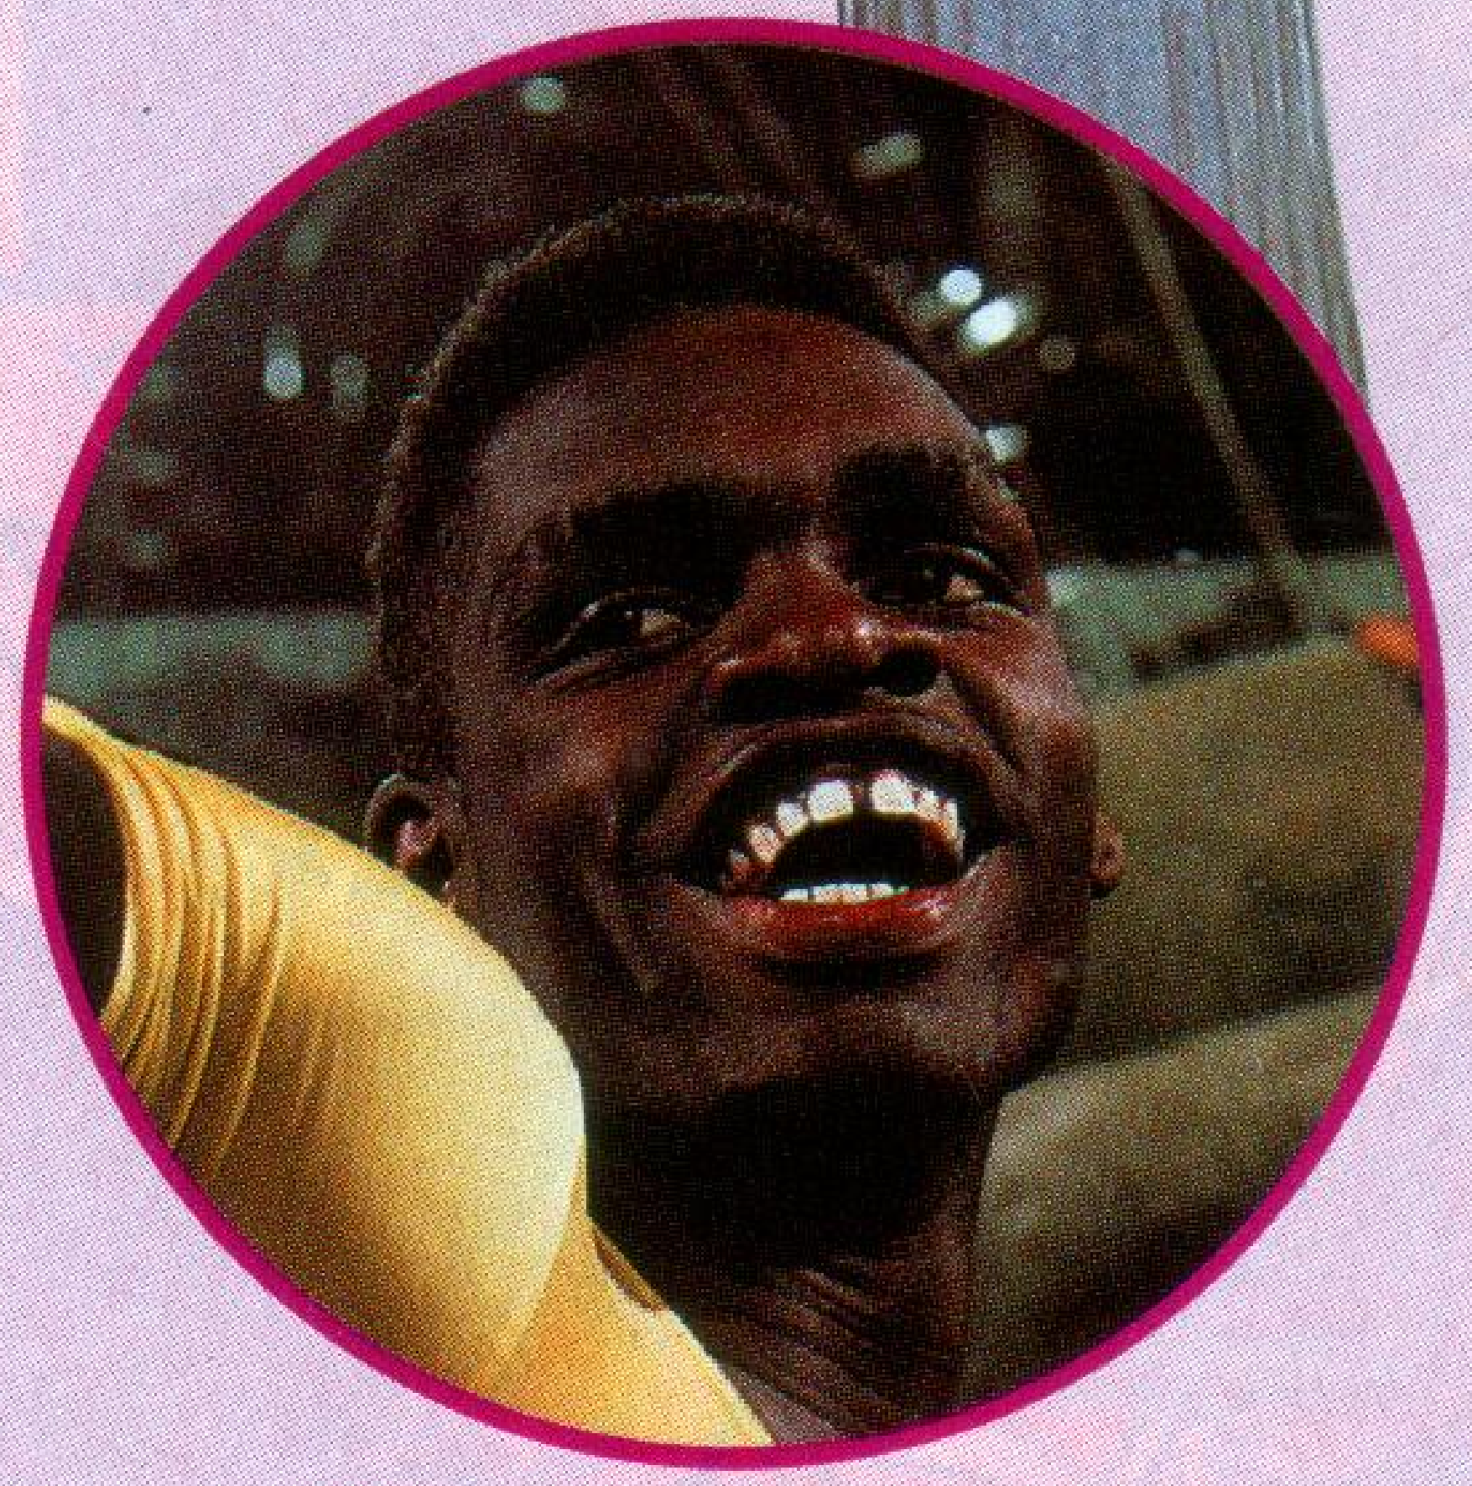
IT'S THE CHICAGO KIDZ!



WHAT'S 18 YEARS OLD AND FLIES OVER FULL-GROWN ELEPHANTS? Answer: TIM SHAW, one of ten terrific talented tumblers called the Chicago Kidz. Featured in the 125th Anniversary Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, the Chicago Kidz are a young, leaping, bounding acrobatic act that grew out of the Jesse White Tumbling Troupe from the streets of Chicago.

> "When you're performing, you're the man."

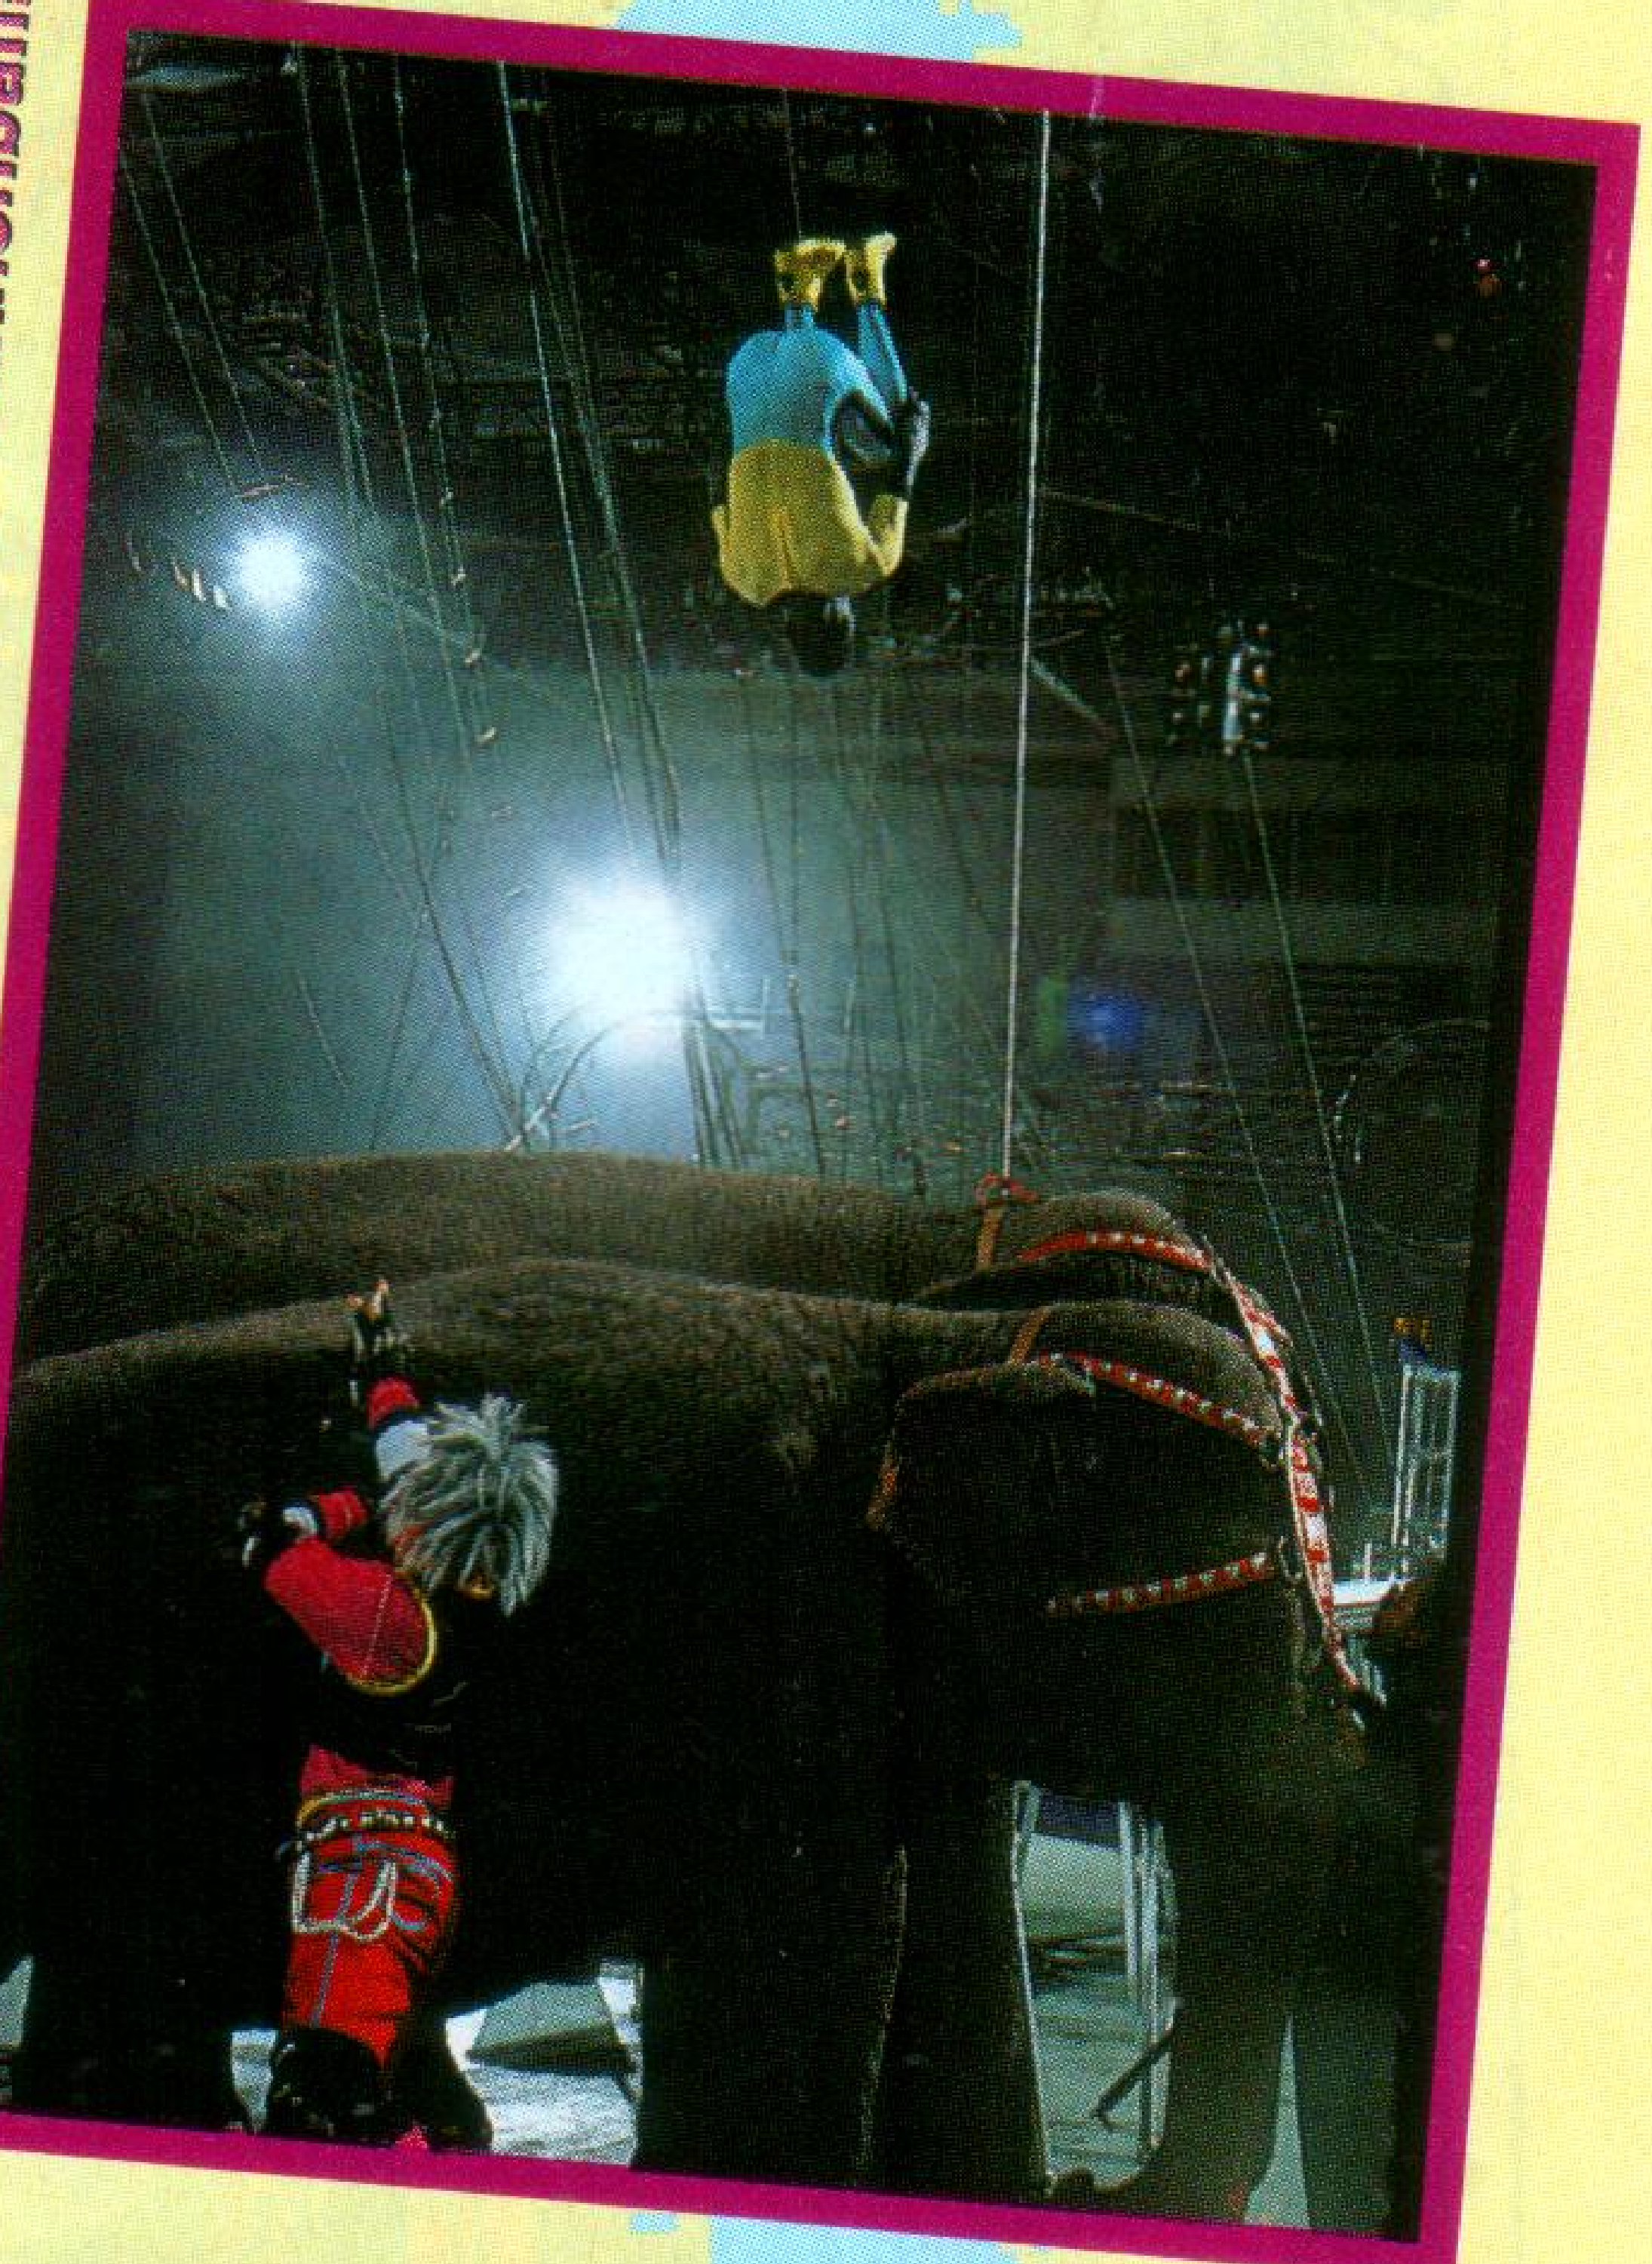
In 1992, Ringling Bros. caught their act and signed them on the spot. Now the Kidz' show-stopping circus routine combines their tumbling traditions with whirling wonders such as the Gym Wheel and—yes—elephant leaping!

Tim Shaw was with the Chicago Kidz from the start, beginning with the Jesse White tumblers. Mighty Morphin Power Rangers Magazine checked out the Kidz at Madison Square Garden in New York City and got a chance to talk to Tim. He says that what he likes best about the circus is being able to go places and see things.

Recently, the group got to visit the Statue of Liberty, the Grand Canyon, and Walt Disney World. Even more than he enjoys fun field trips, though, Tim loves to perform. "When you're performing, you're the man. That's what people come to the circus to see—the performers."

Tim never planned to be in the circus. He dreamed of being in the NBA. His idols are Magic Johnson, because of his playing style, and Charles Barkley, because, "even though he's so famous, he's still real." But now that he's with Ringling, Tim's happy to combine his acrobatic talents with his love of live audiences.



Up, up, and over—a perfect cannonball!

And the audiences love the Kidz right back. Watching the faces in the crowd during the Jumbo Jump is almost as exciting as watching the show! First, the Kidz put a ramp at the end of their truck. Then an elephant or two is guided over to the end of the ramp. Taking a deep breath and running very fast, the first Kid sprints down the ramp and springs up and over the elephants, landing on the mat on the other side. Another elephant is brought in and stands next to his brothers. Another Kid runs down the ramp. Up, up, and over the elephants he goes. He clears three of them! Now a huge elephant is brought in. The audience is on pins and needles. Tim crouches down, then bursts into action. He does it! He clears four elephants. The Jumbo Jump is complete! The crowd goes wild.

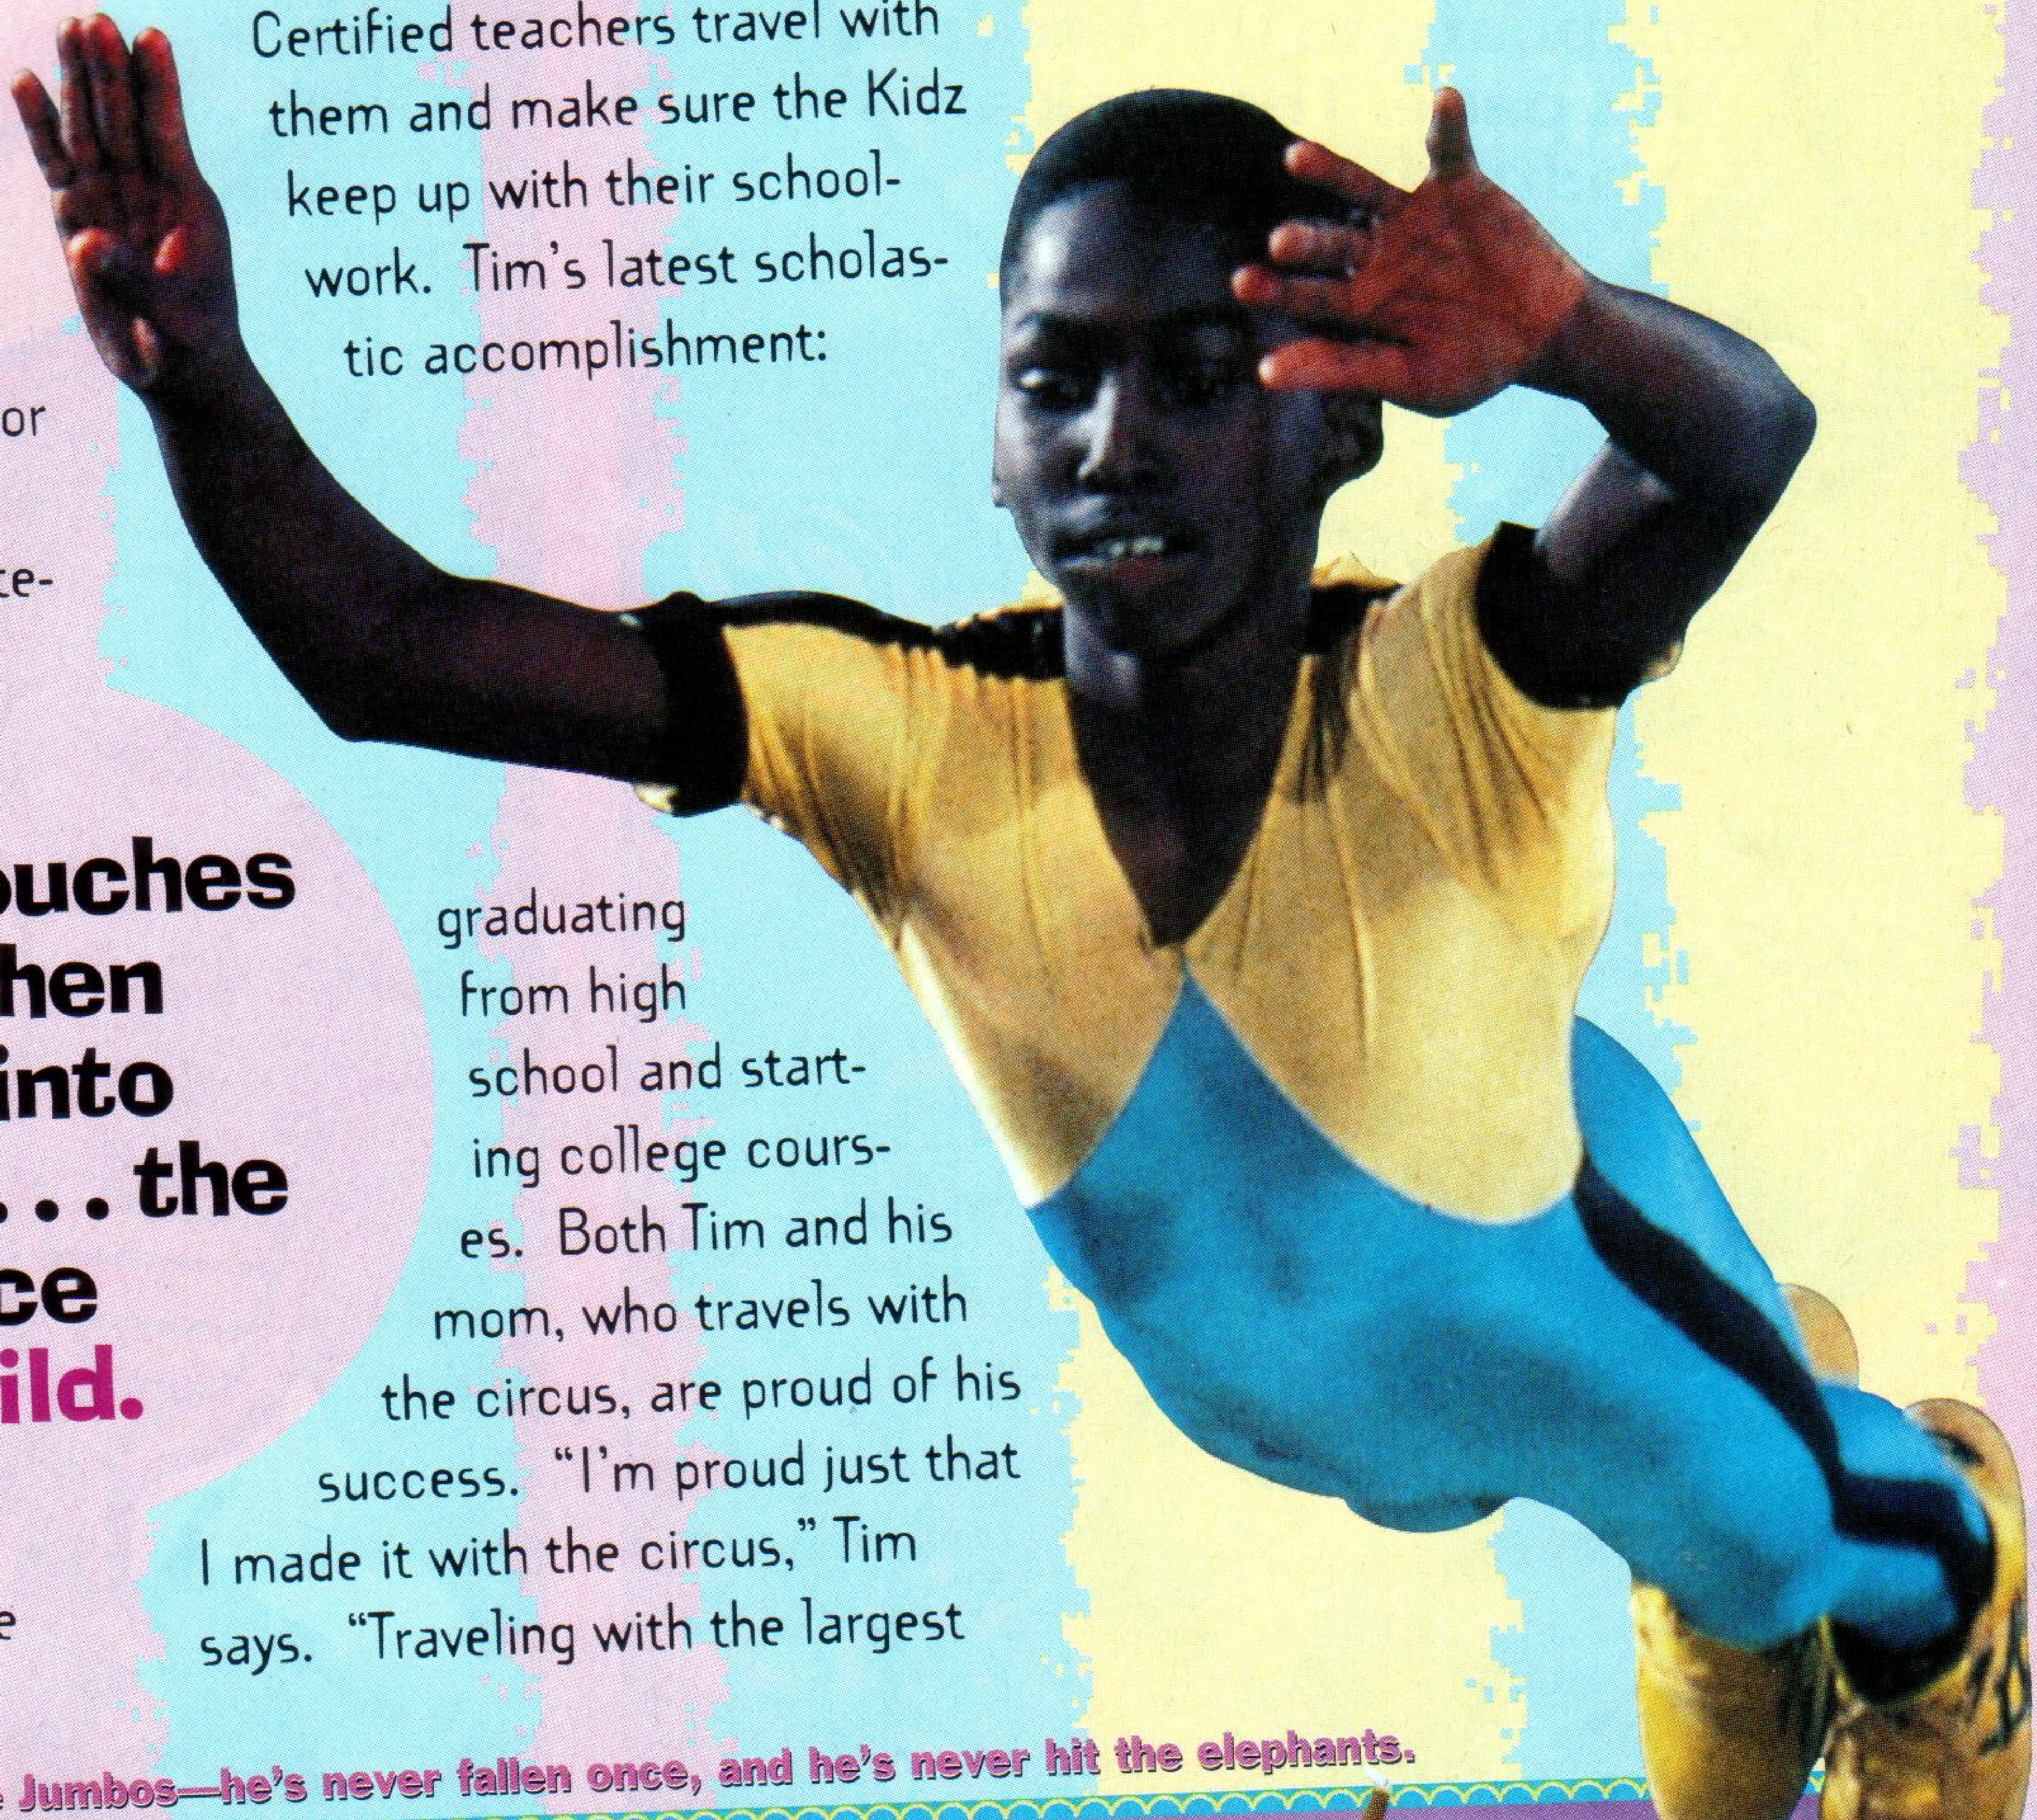
As if jumping over two, three, or four elephants weren't thrilling enough, the Kidz boost the excitement of the shows by keeping their routines fresh. That means they have to learn and master some unfamiliar feats of daring with the help of their Hungarian coach, Janos Novak, who invented the Gym Wheel. "You get inside the wheel and do tricks while the wheel is turning," Tim explains. Is it fun? we ask. "Once you get over the fear!" Tim laughs.

Being part of The Greatest Show On Earth is hard work. The Kidz have to practice between shows as well as to perform. They have two shows a day in some cities—and three on Saturdays! And since all the Kidz are aged between 13 and 18, they go to school . . . in the Little Red Circus Schoolhouse. Certified teachers travel with them and make sure the Kidz keep up with their schoolwork. Tim's latest scholastic accomplishment: graduating from high school and starting college courses. Both Tim and his mom, who travels with the circus, are proud of his success. "I'm proud just that I made it with the circus," Tim says. "Traveling with the largest circus in the world is an honor."

The Chicago Kidz' foot-thumping, head-spinning act is an inspiration to lots of would-be Kidz. And Tim takes that position of honor seriously: "I think any kid who wants to live his dream should try to do it. Just keep working at it. Things aren't going to come easy," he admits. "Practice hard. Practice ends in perfection. Be the best you can be," Tim says. That's advice that he and the other Chicago Kidz have taken to heart.

Tim crouches down, then bursts into action . . . the audience goes wild.



Tim can do two-story flips over the Jumbos—he's never fallen once, and he's never hit the elephants.
